JFK Ready to Accept Gradual Tax Cut

Would Run From 5 to 10 Billion

Aim Is to Lessen Fears on Deficit

By FRANK CORMIER
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy, deeply worried about the fate of his legislative program in the new Congress, is ready to settle for a gradual $5 billion to $10 billion tax cut.

In order to compromise with powerful critics, the President has ordered the Treasury to prepare a tax bill that would bring about the reductions in several carefully spaced steps.

The aim is to lessen the immediate adverse impact on the federal budget deficit.

The President's action, learned from sources privy to Kennedy policy secrets, was influenced by the much-publicized deficit fears of Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. These two committees must approve all tax legislation.

To Avoid Unemployment

It was understood that Kennedy agreed to the compromise approach because he believes without a reduction the nation will return to unemployment levels known only in periods of deep recession. But he hopes that if Congress accepts the tax plan the unemployment rates will drop to the lowest levels since the boom that followed World War II.

But while Kennedy is willing to try compromise on his tax program, authoritative sources said he is determined to push harder for American proposals for solving cold war problems, even if it means treading on the toes of sensitive allies.

Apparently emboldened by the success of the Cuban blockade, the chief executive was said to be willing now to accept criticism from abroad in order to pursue what he believes are the most promising approaches to world issues. He was depicted as accepting complaints from allies as an inevitable by-product of progress. But there is also the problem of his legislative program's progress.

Says Bias Needed

The sources detailed Kennedy's concern about the impending fight to increase the membership of the House Rules Committee from 12 to 15. They also gave his analysis of why a President who rates high in public opinion polls can have great difficulty with Congress.

Kennedy concedes his entire program is lost if the 12-member Rules Committee isn't expanded to head off control by a conservative coalition and to give it a bias favoring his legislation. This committee clears bills for action on the floor.

Picture As Taxes

So far as taxes are concerned, this was the picture provided by unimpeachable sources: Kennedy believes the unemployment rate will climb above 6 per cent if his program is not accepted by Congress. But if the legislators give their approval, he expects the rate to be held close to 5 per cent and perhaps below that point.

Supervisors Rename Fitzsimmons

College, County Bldg. Top Accomplishments

The final meeting of 1962 was held by the board of supervisors Monday at 4 p. m. at which time the usual routine business was transacted.

Ulster County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons of Woodstock, whose term expired on December 31, was unanimously reappointed to a three-year term. The motion for re-appointment was made by Supervisor Peter Savago (R), New Paltz, chairman of the Committee on Public Welfare. Commissioner Fitzsimmons was extended the privilege of the floor and thanked the board for its confidence in him and stated that he would endeavor to warrant this confidence in the future.

Chairman Jesse McHugh (R), Shawangunk, thanked the members of the board for their cooperation and support during the past year, a year in which he said many things had been accomplished. In particular he mentioned the Community College and the decision to erect a new county office building and renovate the court house and jail. He said this was the culmination of years of effort and that it could not have been achieved without the support of the minority members of the board. This cooperation, McHugh said, was fully appreciated by him and he expressed the hope that 1963 would be equally successful.

To Organize Jan. 7

The organization meeting will be held on Monday, Jan. 7, at 8 p. m. at which time the board will name a chairman. Other organizational matters will be taken up.

An invitation was issued to the board to attend the opening of the U. S. Treasury office at 59 North Front Street on January 7 at 10:30 a. m.

It was announced that a meeting of the Community College trustees would be held on Thursday. (Continued on Page 8, Col. 4)

New City Engineer Is Named

T. J. Wickman Was With Steinman Co.

Mayor John J. Schwenk today announced the appointment of Thomas J. Wickman as city engineer, effective January 1, 1963.

Wickman succeeds Arthur F. Hallinan, who retired as city engineer last October 1, following a long illness which ultimately led to his death on December 27.

Mayor Schwenk, commenting on Mr. Hallinan's passing, said that the knowledge and experience he had amassed in 20 years as Kingston's city engineer, will be sorely missed, but that his professional contribution to many city engineering projects will live on in the future through the appreciation of many generations of Kingstonians.

The mayor said Mr. Wickman was selected from a broad list of applicants by a committee of the Board of Public Works, and that he has great expectations because of the new city engineer's youth, vigor, and solid professional experience.

Helped Design Bridges

Wickman, who comes here from Port Washington, was district engineer for the New York Water Service in Glen Cove. Previously, he was an engineer with D. B. Steinman Consulting Engineers of New York City, and had worked on the design and construction of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge, and the MacKinnon Straits Bridge in northern Michigan.

A licensed professional engineer, Wickman is a member of the New York Society of Professional Engineers, and the American Society of Civil Engineers. A graduate of Manhattan College with a degree in civil engineering, he also took post graduate work at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute.

Cold in VA Ward Forces Evacuation Of 20 Patients

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The intensive-care ward at the Veterans Administration Hospital remained closed today after near-freezing temperatures in the ward forced evacuation Sunday night.

The hospital said Tuesday that about 20 patients, all under special nursing care, had been moved to warmer sections of the hospital.

Reds Bring Down 8 Copters

Three Yanks Slain In Viet Nam Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist groundfire today blasted a fleet of U.S. helicopters flying government troops into battle. Three Americans—including an Army captain—were reported killed, and four others wounded.

Deadliest Blow Yet

It was the deadliest blow struck at the U.S. forces aiding President Ngo Dinh Diem's pro-Western government in the civil war against the Viet Cong.

Red gunners hit 14 of the 15 U.S. helicopters taking part in the mission in the Mekong delta, bringing down about eight aircraft.

South Vietnamese forces reportedly suffered an estimated 50 casualties.

The Communists, fighting at battalion strength of 400 men or more, stood and fought against relays of government fighter bombers striking at them instead of running for cover as the Reds usually do after an attack.

Hours after the helicopters were shot down, the fighting still raged 30 miles southwest of Saigon with guerrillas attacking in waves in an attempt to reach the downed aircraft.

All American casualties were reported evacuated under blistering automatic small arms and cannon fire.

Holiday Deaths Number 44

Weather Plays Big Role in N. Y. Toll

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Death came to 44 persons from accidents in New York State during the four-day holiday weekend that marked the turn of the calendar from 1962 to 1963. Savage winter weather contributed to the toll.

Traffic accidents during the New Year's weekend killed 18 persons. Three persons perished in fires, and accidents of other types took 23 lives, an unusually high number.

12 Due to Weather

The holiday began at 6 p. m. Friday and ended at midnight Tuesday night.

Temperatures during the period dropped as low as 27 degrees below zero, and winds gusting to as high as 30 miles an hour. Twelve deaths were blamed on the weather.

Property damage from the winds was widespread, and drifting snow and icy roads apparently cut down automobile traffic and the accidents attributable to it.

During the four-day Christmas holiday a week ago, 50 accidental deaths were recorded, including 34 in traffic.

The accidental deaths that resulted from New Year's weekend weather included nine men lost when a 100-foot tugboat sank Monday in frigid, wind-tossed Long Island Sound.

Accidents took 23 lives, an unusually high number. In a three-day holiday period, accidents took 42 lives, including 28 in traffic. In the four-day holiday of New Year's, 1963, the toll was 41, including 25 in traffic.

This year's weather deaths included nine men lost when a tugboat sank. (Continued on Page 8, Col. 4)

Nik Begins 1963 With New Threat, DeGaulle Hopeful

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The world ushered in the new year with a salute by French President Charles de Gaulle to the possibility of peace in 1963, and "a realistic warning" by Soviet Premier Khrushchev that the West would be destroyed in any nuclear war "unleashed by capitalism."

As millions of Russians lifted vodka glasses to toast 1963, Khrushchev went on radio to tell them he wasn't making "a new year's threat" to the free world. He insisted that the Soviet Union prefers peaceful coexistence.

Meanwhile, at his Paris residence, De Gaulle told a New Year's Day party for foreign diplomats that all the nations represented at the gathering—"above all the most powerful among them"—are endowed with means of destruction so terrible that everyone knows that by putting them to work they would proceed to their own destruction.

De Gaulle added, "I believe—like you—in the possibility of peace and in the compulsion of peace. It is this possibility and this compulsion that I salute at the threshold of this new year, in the name of France."

President Kennedy welcomed in the new year at a party in Palm Beach, Fla. He and his wife attended a 10:30 a. m. Mass at St. Edward's Roman Catholic church.

Kennedy later attended the Orange Bowl football game in Miami. In Bonn, in a broadcast beamed to East Germany, President Heinrich Lübke of West Germany urged restraint in the pursuance of the reunification of Germany. "It must not be realized at the expense of world peace," he said.

Points to $90,000 Cut In Kingston's Deficit

Asks Democrats Join Him in Efforts For Making City Progress During '63

Mayor John J. Schwenk, listing in his annual message to the Common Council New Year's Day, the reductions in municipal government costs during the first year of his administration, said they were achieved "by trying" and he will continue trying in 1963.

Again he emphasized the need for relieving residential property owners from the major tax burden. Major goals, he said, are reduction of property taxes and improvement of city services.

He cited efforts aimed at improvement of the city's business climate, and proposed "maximum use" of "the two urban renewal projects that are now in the planning stage."

Calls for Cooperation

Mayor Schwenk said he intended to dedicate himself as a citizen without regard to politics in making new progress in 1963. He hoped that the fact that this is a municipal election year would not be a hampering factor. The needs of the city would be foremost with him, he said, and he hoped that the majority party (Democrats) in the Common Council "will realize that the most responsible way for them to earn the confidence and respect of their constituents, is to join me in this common desire in behalf of the good of the city."

Text of Message

Gentlemen of the Common Council, members of the Clergy, and fellow citizens of Kingston:

New Year's Day is a time for reappraisal of the year just ended, and a renewal of purpose for the 12 months ahead. And, just as every citizen approaches the New Year with personal resolutions, we, who are responsible for the course of municipal government, should face 1963 with clear cut commitments for the improvement of our way of life here in Kingston.

During the past year, I have been able to test some of the theories for municipal rejuvenation with which I came to office, and I have found that they were both practical and realistic in meeting some of the problems which confront our city.

First of all, I have found out that it is possible to reduce the present and future cost of city government despite increasing charges imposed on the city by agencies outside of municipal control.

With the basic conviction that the city's residential property owners are shouldering the maximum burden that they can carry, and must be given relief, it has been possible to cut the $110,000 estimate deficit which we started 1962 to an estimated 1963 deficit of only $20,000, a savings of $90,000 in a single year.

And, with deep concern for the financial problems of Kingston's residential property owners, it was possible to successfully appeal the tentative equalization rate cut of one point in Albany, and help produce a $30,000 savings in the city's 1963 tax payments to the state and county.

Reducing Costs

How is it possible to reduce municipal operating costs? You do it by trying, and the savings need not be large for any one item, because they all add up. For example, by combining the major portion of the city's insurance programs, we have been able to reduce our insurance premiums by approximately $12,000, and still gain higher protection.

Sillin pointed out that Central Hudson's expansion plans for 1963 "reflect our confidence in the accelerated development of the Mid-Hudson Valley as a major economic region and in the continuing residential, commercial and industrial growth of the communities in the area."

The construction of a new 115,000-volt transmission line from tion limits than we had before.

Open competitive bidding for the city's fuel oil purchases is expected to produce further savings, or at least afford the maximum protection from fuel price increases.

Even the placing of the city's contract to insure ambulance service out for competitive bidding has saved the taxpayer $2,400 for 1963.

And what I particularly like about my policy of placing city business out for open competitive bidding is that no politically favored businessmen can receive special treatment at the expense of the taxpayer.

Furthermore, these 1962 savings have made possible improvements in city services. In fact, many unforeseen and necessary improvements were financed out of the 1962 budget without resorting to borrowing against the future.

For example, needed repairs were made to the sanitary sewer adjacent to Tannery Brook off Warren Street out of the 1962 budget when a major break unexpectedly occurred there.

High Street, in the fifth ward, which had been impassable and dangerous for several years because of a cave-in, was repaired with funds from the budget, using Department of Public Works personnel.

Extensive repairs were made to the Washington Avenue Viaduct, and part of the cost of the temporary Esopus Creek Bridge was financed with budgetary funds.

Complete painting and preservative maintenance of several city buildings were undertaken out of budgetary funds also.

Street Repair Program

Nor was it difficult to provide an extensive street repair program while making considerable savings to the taxpayers. During 1962, the city was able to resurface more miles of street for $160,000 than were done in 1961 (Continued on Page 25, Col. 1)

Ellenville Has First Baby, City Hospital Second

According to area hospital records, the first baby of 1963 was born in Ellenville and the second in this city.

At Veterans Memorial Hospital, in the Ulster County village, a son was born January 1 to Mr. and Mrs. Palmiro Plinque, Napanoch, at 3:12 a. m.

At 4:53 a. m. Tuesday, an eight-pound, eight-ounce son was born at Kingston Hospital to St. Trooper and Mrs. Michael Mattera of Catskill. The dad is serving at Leeds station. The baby is the first for the Matteras.

C-H Lists $10 Million For 1963 Work Budget

A 1963 construction budget totalling more than $10,000,000 was announced today by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation President Lelan F. Sillin Jr. who said the expansion plans for the coming year will enable Central Hudson to "meet the natural gas and electric requirements of new and existing customers during 1963 and to provide for the overall soundness and orderly expansion of gas and electric facilities to meet customer needs in future years."

Sillin pointed out that Central Hudson's expansion plans for 1963 "reflect our confidence in the accelerated development of the Mid-Hudson Valley as a major economic region and in the continuing residential, commercial and industrial growth of the communities in the area."

The construction of a new 115,000-volt transmission line from the Ohioville substation to a new substation west of Kingston is one of the major projects scheduled to start in 1963. A second line, at 69,000 volts, will connect Catskill with a new substation at South Cairo. The Catskill-South Cairo span will result from the reconstruction of an existing 14,000-volt line. The two transmission lines, along with the new substations, are major steps in the reinforcement of the electric system in the northwest portion of the utility's service area.

Total expenditures during 1963 for reinforcement and expansion of the Central Hudson System will amount to $3,830,000.

Rapidly growing Southern Dutchess County also figures prominently in the utility's 1963 expansion program. More than three-quarters of a million dollars will be spent to provide additional electric power to the (Continued on Page 20, Col. 3)

Inaugural Address Indicates Rocky's Top Political Concern Is Presidency

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller was embarked today on a new term as chief executive of New York State but his inaugural address indicated his top political concern was the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

The inaugural speech, delivered to a New Year's Day crowd of 1,500 invited guests in the State Capitol, paid scant attention to New York affairs.

Its emphasis on national concerns and a middle-of-the-road political philosophy underscored Rockefeller's role as a top possibility for the GOP nomination to challenge Democratic President Kennedy in the next national election.

The 54-year-old governor utilized the address to portray himself as a conservative in fiscal affairs but a liberal in such matters as civil rights. The GOP has drawn its presidential candidates from the middle of the political road since 1940.

Rockefeller's inaugural contained strong evidence his horizons are national.

This was evident in such statements as "I pledge that I will continue to strive for the best ways to insure an ever richer fulfillment of the American dream and the aspirations of all Americans."

Rockefeller has declined to say whether he will seek the nomination in 1964.

The governor's inaugural address will be widely interpreted as fresh evidence of presidential ambition.

Rockefeller turned to state matters only in the closing passages of the 12-minute address and those references were generalized.

He pledged to improve higher education, modernize facilities for training workers to meet challenges of automation, accelerate further the state's economic growth and improve research and development activities as a means of attracting new industries.

The governor gave no details on those plans. Rockefeller's oath of office for a second, four-year term was administered by Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond of the State Court of Appeals.

As he did in 1959, Rockefeller advised Tuesday against being deluded by "slogans and labels, such as conservative, liberal and progressive."

He called for "the old-fashioned virtues" in politics and said these included sincerity, honesty, candor and integrity, including the fiscal integrity of government.

"I believe," he said, "that political leaders have the affirmative duty to ruthlessly prune out wasteful and nonessential expenditures of the taxpayers' money."

Ancient Skeleton Found

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A skeleton, unearthed at a construction site in nearby Penfield last summer, is an estimated 3,000 years old, an anthropologist says.

Charles F. Hayes III of the Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences, said Tuesday the skeleton was that of a 45-year-old adult male of the Point Peninsula culture which flourished between 3,000 and 1,000 b.c.

Area Included in New List Of Historical Landmarks

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department has named 35 New York sites to its national registry of historic landmarks and more surveys are in the offing in the search for additional landmarks.

The department added five New York sites last week to its growing list, which now totals 378 nationally. John Littleton, chief of the national survey of historic sites and buildings, said others in New York probably would be added this year.

He said New York should figure in the current department survey of American architecture, and future surveys planned in the fields of industry, communications, early Indian farmers and Indian villages.

Includes Burroughs Home

The latest New York sites to be added to the list are illustrative of the nation's literature, drama and music. They include:

Carnegie Hall, the Metropolitan Opera and the Players Club in New York City; Sunnyside, the home of Washington Irving at Tarrytown, and Woodchuck Lodge, the home of writer John Burroughs near Roxbury.

Most of the sites named in New York date back to the 18th century and many illustrate the Revolutionary War, Dutch exploration and Colonial eras.

The national registry was set up in October 1960 to give moral support and recognition to organizations that have preserved historical properties.

The federal government does not assume ownership of the sites but issues a certificate and plaque that can be exhibited by the owners.

The registry does not include sites federally owned and administered by the National Park Service. The Saratoga National Historical Park and the Statue of Liberty National Monument fall into this category.

Sites Listed

New York sites listed in the registry include:

Dutch Reformed (Sleepy Hollow) Church, North Tarrytown; The Erie Canal; Ft. Crailo, Rensselaer; Ft. St. Frederic, Crown Point; Ft. Ticonderoga, Ticonderoga.

The Gundelo "Philadelphia," a gunboat used by the Americans against the British in Lake Champlain in 1776, Essex County; the Holland Land Office, Batavia, Huguenot Street, New Paltz, five stone houses built by the Huguenots during the 18th century.

Hurley, a collection of Dutch heritage houses; Johnson Hall, Johnstown, home of Sir William Johnson, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for the Northern Colonies from 1763 to 1774; Lamoka, depicting the prehistoric Lamoka culture.

Lindenwald, the home of President Martin Van Buren near Kinderhook; pre-revolutionary house; Old Ft. Niagara, Youngstown; Plattsburgh Bay, Plattsburgh, scene of a War of 1812 battle.

U.S. Military Academy, West Point; Valcour Bay, Lake Champlain, scene of a 1776 battle; and Washington's headquarters, Newburgh.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—This year business starts off with fingers crossed. A year ago it was expecting big things. A new boom was being forecast by many economists, particularly those in government posts.

This year turned out to be a good one, as a matter of fact, with 1962 setting highs in many lines of industry and trade, in personal incomes and total employment. It just wasn't the smasher that the prophets had led people to expect.

In this new year there are also some high hopes. They largely revolve around the chance of a federal tax cut and the prospect of greater government spending. Many industrial economists think the two together could spell a better year in 1963 than we had in 1962.

Others, more cautious, say that these two factors, if they develop on schedule, could at least keep any business slowdown from becoming a major one, and later could spell another moderate advance.

But the majority this time prefers to keep fingers crossed. There are three factors in the domestic economy that will decide what kind of a year it will be, and there are uncertainties at the moment as to the course of all three.

First is consumer spending. This has been going along at a good clip. People haven't been splurging. But neither have they been scrimping. If nothing shakes their confidence in the future they may go on spending at about the same rate as now.

The uncertain factors here are how to bring more persons off the jobless rolls and into the income earning class and whether upcoming wage negotiations will mean an increase in take home pay or whether spreading mechanization will cause more unemployment and thus cut total consumer spending power.

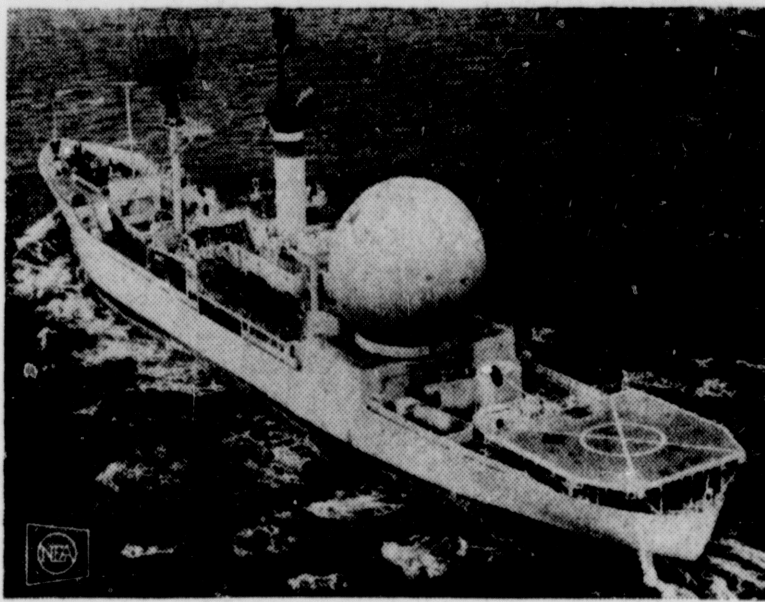

The second factor in the economy is how much business itself will spend. At present it appears it will spend about the same, or at least only a little more, on plants and equipment than it did in 1962.

And a third factor in the economy is government spending. This seems sure to rise moderately, no matter what Congress does. But if Congress should decide on pump priming and more spending, or if a new international crisis should arise, government spending could add a sizable amount in total outlays.

And the most publicized uncertainty at the moment is tax cutting. What Congress does could have quite an effect on the economy, both in dollars and in psychology.

A tax cut for individuals could increase consumer spending. A cut for corporations could boost business spending.

Congressional Cooperation Needed by State Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department, while worrying about the world, must not forget Congress.

Sometimes the public pictures the secretary of state and his men rushing about the world shoring up alliances, signing agreements, outmaneuvering Communists.

The role of Congress in all this seems obscure. To the State Department, the presence of Congress is clear and near. The department cannot do the job without the cooperation of congressmen. It maintains an extensive operation to keep that cooperation.

In 1949, the department formally opened an Office of Congressional Relations, now headed by Frederick G. Dutton, assistant secretary of state.

Aim for Supp. of Congress

The aim of the office is evident: to influence congressmen to support foreign policy decisions of the President and the State Department. Another aim is to keep on good terms with congressmen so they don't oppose State Department requests out of pique and frustration.

The recent trip of Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., to Africa, and the resulting controversy, exposed for public view some of the delicate and intense relations between the State Department and Congress.

Ellender, by his remarks about Africans, embarrassed the state department. The department tried to save some face without embarrassing Ellender.

Handling congressional tours overseas is part of the work of Dutton's office.

In 1961, the office arranged 205 trips for 780 congressmen and members of their staffs. The 1962 total of congressmen and staff members on tour probably reach a thousand.

On Dec. 1, in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, Ellender made the remarks that embarrassed the State Department.

"I have yet to meet any Africans who have the capability to run their own affairs," he said, "and I have never yet seen any area where the Africans built up anything for themselves. It is always the whites who are responsible for progress in Africa."

Perhaps the first reaction at the State Department was to slap Ellender down. But slapping down a member of Congress is a luxury no State Department may indulge in.

The Kennedy administration may need Ellender some day. In fact, he already has been of considerable service to the administration as chairman of the Senate Agricultural Committee, helping guide farm bills through the Senate.

So that State Department issued some statements noting that Ellender's views were his own and not those of the Kennedy administration.

The State Department has the primary responsibility for American foreign policy, but it can not move too far without the cooperation of Congress.

SPOON-FED GENERATION

You can find a hatful of theories about the causes of juvenile crime. The trouble with most of them is that they seem only partial explanations.

For example, such usually cited factors as poverty, bad housing, broken homes, racial discrimination and poor schooling obviously don't play any role in the substantial amount of crime committed by well cared for youngsters in U. S. suburbs.

The playwright Arthur Miller, writing not long ago in Harpers, searched hard for a real common thread, one which would bind together juvenile crime not just in this country but all over the world. It runs high in Europe—even in the Soviet Union.

Miller believes he has found the bond. He thinks it is an all-pervading boredom, a strange kind of emptiness of the mind and spirit.

This, he says, is not the boredom of idleness alone, though there can be little doubt that the joblessness of ill-trained youngsters contributes.

The emptiness he speaks of comes from an absence of challenges, a lack of genuine, meaningful conflicts, a failure to test the individual's will and capacity.

The poor man's son sees the government, with some erratic exceptions, providing welfare checks. The rich man's son sees his father providing cars, television sets, cameras, at the asking.

When does either young man learn he must earn the rewards of life?

In this grand age of excuse and permissiveness, the youth, rich or poor, is forgiven virtually all his errors by the courts, the welfare agencies and social workers, the indulgent parents. Few if any demands are made upon him.

In this situation, it is suggested, he manufactures excitement by venturing into daring and often brutal crime. The "senseless" assault perhaps makes sense only as a momentary release from boredom.

Parents, indeed the whole adult world, cannot be relieved of heavy responsibility for creating the vacuum in which today's youngsters thresh about—often so wildly. But neither can the young be absolved of blame.

One individual who seems to see things this way recently addressed teen-agers through the columns of a Washington newspaper. To young folk bemoaning their sad lot, he wrote:

"GO HOME! Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves. . . . Shovel the walk. Wash the car. Learn to cook. . . .

"Help the minister. . . . Visit the sick. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And then when you are through—and not too tired—read a book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. . . . The world does NOT owe you a living. You owe the world something . . . your time and energy and your talents, so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again.

"In plain simple words: GROW UP. Quit being a crybaby. Get out of your dream world. Develop a backbone, not a wishbone. And start acting like a man—or a lady. . . .

For parents and children alike, these words make a cracking good reading lesson with which to begin a new year.

Paul G. Hoffman, former Marshall Plan administrator, predicts a world without want by 2000 A.D. We're cheered by his assumption that there'll still be a world by then.

Commentators now wonder what made Khrushchev think he could get away with installing those missile bases in Cuba. A few weeks ago they were afraid that he would get away with it.

Freeman says he never notices what he eats. Maybe agriculture secretaries get that way trying not to notice that their menu often includes crow.

Chinese and Indians hold their fire. Maybe the Himalayan snows make it a full-time job just keeping their powder dry.

Venezuela

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Caracas, Venezuela — (NEA) — How much time before one of democracy's brightest and steadiest lights in the Caribbean goes out?

With Romulo Betancourt's presidency living out its last year in office, all the makings of a revolution are falling into place in Venezuela.

Unemployment, reaching toward the 25 per cent mark, is driving hundreds of hungry, envious people into Caracas each week.

The Betancourt administration is committed to finishing out its full elected term and be Venezuela's first government to do so. So it is moving at a cautious snail's pace, deferring economic decisions in favor of political calm.

The militant left has been driven underground, out of sight and surveillance. The militant right has formed a political action group to "help" select candidates for next December's presidential election.

What passes for Venezuela's middle class is faced with a growing array of parties splintering off one another at the prospect of elections.

How much time before these elements boil over into trouble?

Not for this year at least, say even the staunchest of Betancourt's enemies. There is no doubt in the Venezuelan mind that the administration will finish out its term.

"We have to," one hears again and again. "Otherwise we'll never have the model for political stability."

But after this year? The shrewd, worried money here gives Venezuela just enough time for elections and the inauguration of a new president, whoever he is. Then, they say, comes the revolution.

Capital is already moving out of the country. One meets a number of wealthy citizens who are planning to spend "the next year or so abroad, traveling."

The hopeful and worried, however, are pinning their future on Betancourt's political acumen that has gained him hemispheric renown. But can he pick a suitable successor?

"This country cannot survive a weak presidency," says a Latin diplomat stationed in Caracas. "Venezuela, unlike Brazil or the U.S., simply does not have the necessary institutions to carry her through. Nor does she have an oligarchy, like Peru, to take up the slack."

But whether Betancourt can pull it off in the year remaining is another matter. His great virtue—politics—is also his weakness, his critics say. He cannot bring himself to jeopardize votes with unpleasant but necessary measures.

Economist and planners say, for example, that Venezuela needs skilled laborers and farmers if industry is to diversify and the nation is to grow out of her massive unemployment misery.

But according to the Inter-governmental Committee for European Migration, nobody in the Venezuelan government today can request needed selected immigration. Decisions like that are being postponed because it is an election year.

Another example of too much politics is the problem of Venezuelan tourism, an industry that could build employment and bring in new revenue. The nation can offer fishing, skiing, hunting, ocean bathing and jungle romance—all within hours of one another.

To lure tourists, Venezuela's Viasa airline has put Caracas into a European tour plan as an optional stop, and has spearheaded a drive to get other airlines to lower New York-Caracas fares by $80.

"This is all contingent," a Viasa man in Caracas said. "On Venezuela's spending some money on tourist promotion. But will the government do it? Or will they instead divert that money to the interior in order to get votes for the political party of one minister or another?"

Both insiders and observers in the Betancourt government expect a whopping campaign of government spending in this coming year—both to garner votes and to try to pull Venezuela out of a depression by the bookshelves.

"I sincerely hope it is not too late," says a young engineer, son of one of the wealthiest families in the country.

"We are watching—my friends and I—with considerable interest. If it should begin to look as though Betancourt cannot get our country on the right track to continue after he leaves office, we will have to do something."

"This country cannot move ahead with a weak leader. We will have to see that such a thing does not happen."

Fresh Air Helps Remove Airborne Germs

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My wife has sinusitis. A friend has recommended that I treat her with vapor containing triethylene glycol because he claims that this will kill airborne germs. Do you agree?

A—Of all the vapors used to kill airborne germs triethylene glycol is probably the best. It finds its greatest usefulness in preventing the spread of airborne disease from patient to patient in a hospital. Even here, however, it has serious limitations.

The simplest and best measure for removing air contaminants in the home is ventilation from open windows. Unfortunately there is much more to the treatment of sinusitis than providing a supply of fresh air.

If the condition has persisted for more than two or three weeks it is necessary to make sure proper drainage from the sinuses has been established. Obstructions to normal breathing through the nose must be removed and allergy must be ruled out or, if it is present, treated. Before you consider buying a vaporizer to sterilize the air in your home, your wife should have a thorough check-up by a nose and throat specialist.

Q—Does the strontium chloride in a certain brand of toothpaste have any connection with the strontium-90 in radioactive fallout?

A—Strontium is a metal that is similar to calcium. It is harmless, but according to the American Dental Assn. it is doubtful that it has any useful action on the teeth or gums. Its radioactive isotope is not used in the manufacture of any article for sale to the public.

Q—I have been cured of a duodenal ulcer. Must I continue indefinitely on an "ulcer diet?"

A—The food eaten does not cause the ulcer in the first place, so when the ulcer is healed a gradual return to a less restricted diet can be made. Nevertheless, foods that have coarse indigestible skins should be peeled because of the generally irritating effect.

Another reader asks whether after having a peptic ulcer for three months he may have a bottle of beer. Alcohol in any form will aggravate an ulcer that has not completely healed. If it is known that complete healing has taken place one beer would not cause a recurrence. "Moderation in all things," however, applies with added force to persons who have had ulcers.

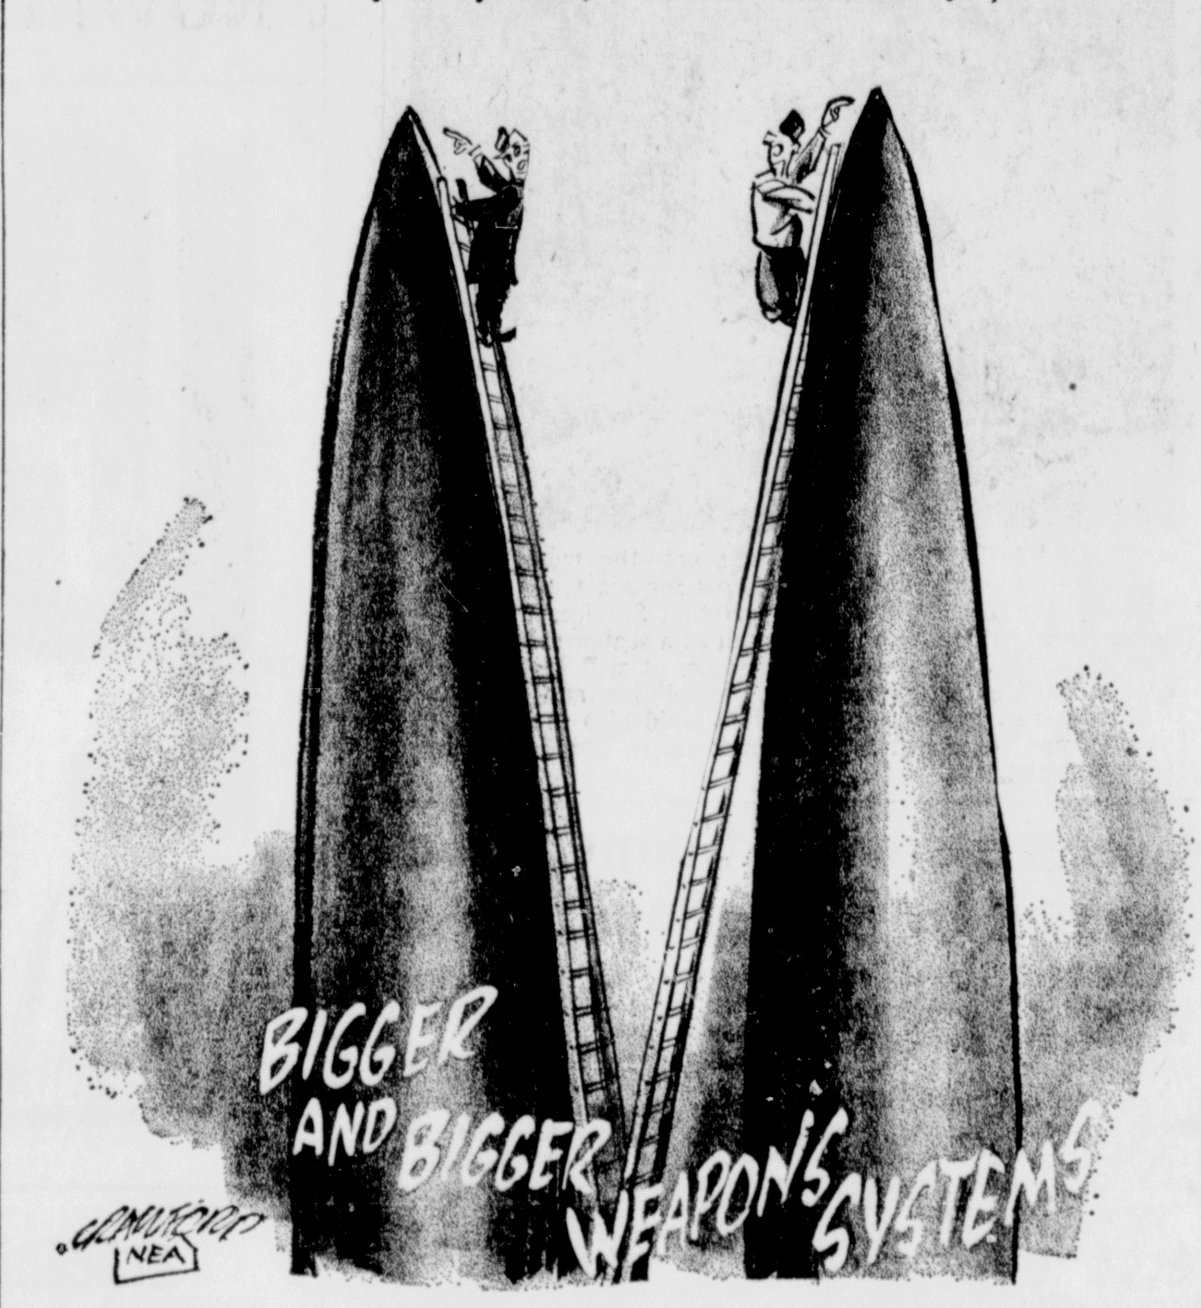

Q—When a woman has had her uterus and one ovary removed does this throw her into the change of life or will she have the change in her forties as she normally would without the operation?

A—When both ovaries are removed the menopause or change starts in at once but if only one ovary is removed and a functioning ovary remains the change will not occur until the usual time.

Q—What is the oldest recorded age that a woman has given birth to a child?

A—Although this is a most unusual case, a woman gave birth to her 23rd child when she was 63, then kept right on menstruating. With the cessation of menstruation the child-bearing period is over. But, because the menopause is a gradual process often with gaps of three or four months between periods, many a woman who thought her menopause was complete has given birth to a "change-of-life baby."

"My Pop Can Lick Your Pop!"

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Santa Claus International, alias your Uncle Sam or the United States government in disguise, may have to cut down on a lot of marginal foreign aid programs if the ideas of Gen. Lucius Clay prevail.

Clay is chairman of President Kennedy's new, high-sounding, foreign aid advisory Committee to Strengthen the Free World.

"We are not an investigating committee," says Clay after several days conferring in Washington on what his nine-man group is supposed to do. "We will simply determine the wisdom of policies governing our (foreign aid) expenditures and attempt to make sure that these policies do not limit our activities to those necessary and essential to the security of our nation and the free world."

A literal interpretation of Clay's first public statement on this subject could affect a lot of the foreign aid projects like sewers, water supply and housing developments in countries that don't have them, jet airports and international airlines for countries that don't need them. Tennessee Valley-type authorities for hydroelectric power and irrigation in countries that aren't ready for them, steel mills and atomic reactors for countries that won't have the skilled manpower to operate them for some years. All these might have to be dropped.

AND IT COULD BE that the ideas of Chester Bowles will have more weight. He recommends that foreign aid be denied those countries which lack the ability to use it wisely or won't or don't reform their own governments to put their economies in order.

This will be the fourth time in the last 19 years that the government has gone through this same aid reform exercise.

U.S. and free world security was the theme of the Mutual Security Administration. This is what it will apparently be once again if the Clay idea prevails.

When the Eisenhower administration came to town, it recruited a lot of big business executives to survey foreign aid. The result was that MSA was changed into the more business-like Foreign Operations Administration.

Then former President Herbert Hoover's Commission on Reorganization of Government surveyed foreign economic operations in 1955. FOA was changed to International Co-operation Administration. President Eisenhower then appointed another commission under Gen. William H. Draper to survey foreign aid again in 1959. It is reminiscent of the Clay committee.

But it was President Kennedy who changed ICA into Agency for International Development—AID—when he took office. And now Clay apparently is going through the motions of putting the emphasis back on "security" where it was in 1950-52.

THIS VIEW IS DISCOUNTED in the State Department, however. There it is stressed that the appointment of former Budget Director David E. Bell as the new AID administrator means there will be continuity of operations, without another wholesale reorganization and reshuffling of personnel.

Clay's committee of former Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett, former Treasury Secretary

Robert B. Anderson, retiring World Bank President Eugene Black, Continental Oil President L. D. McCollum, former State Department legal advisor Herman Phleger, AFL-CIO President George Meany, University of Nebraska President Clifford Harden and Harvard Prof. Edward S. Mason will hold its first meeting late in January.

It aims to file its first report with Kennedy by March 1. It will maintain liaison with Congress but not lobby for aid.

Clay has opened offices in the State Department and named William T. Dentzer Jr. executive secretary. He is a former Defense Department official who has been serving as assistant to AID Director Fowler Hamilton and Alliance for Progress Director Teodoro Moscoso. The idea is that the Clay committee will be a permanent organization, not a temporary one.

Unfortunately, however, the administration has tied its own hands. In order to persuade Premier Khrushchev to withdraw his offensive missiles from Cuba, Mr. Kennedy bartered away the American right to invade Cuba even though 10,000 military men and technicians of the Soviet Union remain there ready to help the Castro government.

The President fumbled the "Bay of Pigs" invasion in April 1961 by vacillating in an emergency. He let civilians run a military operation. He listened again in September 1962 to civilian advice and ignored military considerations as the Soviets built up an offensive base under the very eyes of Central Intelligence Agency informants.

The 1,100 prisoners who heard the President's speech at Miami were pleased with the President's words of cheer last Saturday, but will they again read into his words a promise such as they thought they had in April 1961? For they risked their lives then believing they had air cover promised by United States officials, only to have it withdrawn when the Cuban brigade had actually landed and was moving toward victory.

Wishing Won't Free Cuba, Says Tampa Trib Editorial

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has consigned Cuba to the fate of Hungary and the other Communist-bloc nations in Europe. The head of the United States government said to the liberated prisoners at Miami on Saturday:

"I can assure you that it is the strongest wish of the people of this country, as well as the people of this hemisphere, that Cuba shall one day be free again."

But there's a difference between wishing and taking effective action. In commenting on the President's speech, the Tampa "Tribune" captioned its lead editorial on Sunday as follows: "Wishing won't free Cuba—a positive program will." It then proceeded to recommend three steps:

1. A tightening of the economic blockade by barring American ports and American cargoes to any ships carrying on trade with Cuba.

2. Settling up a Cuban Government-in-Exile as a "legal channel for aiding Cuban resistance."

3. Training and supplying a massive underground network in Cuba "to sabotage production, divert military manpower to guard duty and keep constant psychological warfare going against the Communists."

The Tampa newspaper then adds:

"If the Kennedy administration pursues this objective with the boldness it displayed in the missile showdown and the deviousness it used in the prisoner ransom, 1963 may see the free-Cuba wish come true."

Ties Own Hands

Unfortunately, however, the administration has tied its own hands. In order to persuade Premier Khrushchev to withdraw his offensive missiles from Cuba, Mr. Kennedy bartered away the American right to invade Cuba even though 10,000 military men and technicians of the Soviet Union remain there ready to help the Castro government.

truth are bound to lead to a nationwide distrust of official statements and speeches. The Democratic leaders in Congress didn't hesitate to investigate as delicate an affair as the U-2 flights over Russia during the Eisenhower administration. But they have shown no inclination to reveal the true story of how the Bay of Pigs expedition was bungled in bad judgment, bad management and bad direction in Washington, especially when our own military chiefs were not permitted to manage a military operation which was needed to protect the United States against the Communists.

The situation is much worse in this respect now because, influenced by the bargaining attitude of civilian advisers, the President gave a "no-invasion" pledge. This means that, under existing neutrality laws, the Department of Justice must order the arrest of any Cuban in exile who, while in this country, takes any step leading to the organization of a military expedition against the Castro government. This policy is defended as a means of building good will in this hemisphere among those countries which do not like to see the United States allowing the use of its territory to form expeditions to help overthrow governments in Latin America.

Must Rid Cuba of Menace

But this same attitude misses the whole point on which the policy of the United States toward an unrecognized and hostile government in Cuba has floundered. It is that the defense of the American people has been and is at stake. As long as the Castro government is in military alliance with the Soviet Union and potential missile bases and Russian military advisers are present to threaten the security of this country, the obligation to rid Cuba of that menace by whatever means will be effective remains a primary duty of the commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the United States, who happens also to have been elected President by the people.

Mr. Kennedy had every right to demand unconditionally the removal of the Soviet missiles from Cuban bases just 90 miles away from the

Talks to Resume In News Strikes

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations resume today in the New York City and Cleveland newspaper strikes following recesses in the talks since late last week.

The lengthy newspaper blackouts led to more reports of serious impacts on business and industry and on the people's way of life.

The 26-day-old shutdown of New York City's nine major newspapers was said to be crippling the Broadway theater business.

The 34-day-old strike against Cleveland's two daily newspapers has been a hard blow to greater Cleveland business that rely on newspaper advertising. Retail business is slumping. New and used car sales are far down, and restaurant, sports, entertainment and cultural enterprises report they are feeling the pinch.

In the New York blackout, the federal mediation and conciliation service scheduled resumption of negotiations late today between the publishers and the striking Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union. The talks were recessed Friday for the New Year's weekend.

In Cleveland, negotiations start up again late today between representatives of the Cleveland unit of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild and the Cleveland Press and News and the Plain Dealer. Talks between the publishers and the Guild have been in recess since Saturday afternoon. Talks between the publishers and the independent Teamsters Union broke off Saturday with no date set for resumption.

Fewer Seed Potatoes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seed potatoes grown for planting this 1963 crop totaled 37.4 million hundredweight, a decline of 9 per cent from a year earlier.

The U. S. Agriculture Department said the crop also was down 27 per cent from the 1951-60 average.

Production declines in 18 states more than offset increases in Maine, New York, Colorado, Washington and New Hampshire.

Car Strikes Pole

Tuesday afternoon a car operated by Harry E. Hornbeck, 16, of 9 Walnut Street skidded on slippery pavement on Esopus Avenue, Town of Ulster, and struck a utility pole. The accident happened about 4:10 p. m. and was investigated by Kingston troopers. Taken to Kingston Hospital and treated for cuts and bruises, was the operator of the car and Keren Boice, 15, a passenger. They were released after treatment.

Decisions by State Court of Appeals

Ruling Supported Barring X-Ray Use by Chiropractors

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—State courts offer no remedy for the complaints of chiropractors against a state rule that bars their using X-rays in the diagnosis and treatment of patients.

The State Court of Appeals, the state's highest court, rejected Monday an appeal against a State Health Department regulation prohibiting chiropractors from using X-rays in treatment or diagnosis.

In another decision, the court upheld the convictions of two former city officials in Utica and four former Utica police officers in connection with police protection given to prostitution there.

In two instances, however, convictions were reversed.

The next battleground in the controversy over the status of chiropractors in New York will be the State Legislature.

Pressed by Dept.

Chiropractors long have urged that they be licensed in the state. But bills that would provide for the licensing have failed to win legislative approval, largely because of Health Department objections based on the X-ray question.

Some action on chiropractic licensing is expected, however, this year. A licensing bill already has been filed.

A similar bill died in committee in 1962.

The appeals court, in its 5-2 decision, affirmed a 1958 order of the State Public Health Council, which promulgates health rules for the Health Department.

The Chiropractic Association of New York had contended the rule was unconstitutional.

Calls It Menace

In the majority decision, Associate Judge John Van Voorhis said that "the Public Health Council has decided after thorough investigation that the wholesale taking of X-rays for use in chiropractic is a public health menace."

In a dissent, Chief Judge Charles S. Desmond pointed out that the regulation in question permitted technicians, nurses and others to take X-rays under the direction of a physician, dentist, podiatrist or osteopath.

Desmond said: "I cannot vote to sustain the legality of a regulation, which, while requiring a doctor's order for the radiograph, bars a qualified chiropractor from doing the X-ray."

Associate Judge Marvin R. Dye joined with Desmond in the dissent.

Ruling On Utica Men

In the ruling involving the Utica men, the court upheld conspiracy and perjury convictions of Vincent D. Fiore, former senior deputy police chief, and former police officers Robert Bogan, Frank S. Macner, Leonard Custodero and Pasquale Fragetta.

They were found guilty of lying to grand juries investigating vice and crime in Utica and of conspiring to conceal from investigators an arrangement for police protection for the operations of a brothel.

The court also upheld the convictions of Fiore and Dennis P. O'Dowd, a former political power in Utica, on charges of trying to induce Irene Burke, a convicted madam, to commit perjury.

The court also upheld the conviction of O'Dowd for bribing Miss Burke in an attempt to influence her testimony to investigators.

The conviction of Fiore on charges of aiding and abetting the Burke prostitution operation by protecting her from arrest and a conspiracy conviction against O'Dowd were reversed.

Doctor's Strike for Hour

ROME (AP)—Doctors in all Italian hospitals struck for one hour today to call attention to their demand for Parliament to establish pensions and retirement at 65 for doctors and medical assistants in state hospitals.

Blame Hot Ashes For Esopus Blaze

A fire apparently caused by hot ashes from a stove destroyed a small one-story building about noon Tuesday on the Arthur Schupelack premises on the Port Ewen-New Salem Road at May Park.

The building was occupied by George Krudener, about 82 years of age, who resided alone in the building. He had gone outside to empty ashes from a stove and when he returned the place was on fire. It is believed hot ashes from the ash-pan set the place on fire.

Port Ewen firemen were summoned and under Chief Edward F. Mains the fire was extinguished but not until the small building had been practically destroyed. The St. Remy tanker was sent to the scene because of lack of a water supply at the place. Krudener was taken to a rest home in Kingston.

The Port Ewen firemen, under Chief Mains, answered an alarm at 3:30 a. m. New Year's Day on Clay Road, Port Ewen, where the car of James Johnson, 1 Pearl Street, had become stuck in the snow. In an effort to get out of the drift, fire started in the carburetor when the car became overheated.

"Don't make a sound or you'll start an avalanche!"

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Received the following note from Mrs. Earl (Dorothy E.) Smith of 149 Hurley Avenue, Kingston.

"Dear Sophie Miller: I recently received these clippings from an Indianapolis, Ind. newspaper and thought you would be interested. I have written Mr. Sides, telling him of all the reprints made of that issue of the Ulster County Gazette, also sent him one of your items about it. It do hope that his turns out to be an original and not a copy. I also hope he lets me know if he finds out for sure."

Mrs. Smith continues: "Would you please return the clippings to me after you are finished. I have a copy of the old Ulster County Gazette (not an original) and I keep all things pertaining to it, that I come across." signed, "One of your many interested readers." Then adds a P.S. "Just wondered if anything as interesting as that was found and destroyed with the rubble of our old De Waal Tavern."

I wonder too. Well, at this writing the big stones are still there in the excavation, covered with snow and ice.

From the picture sent to me of this newspaper clipping, I see on the title front page, "Ulster County Gazette" and also in large letters, "History of George Washington," across the page. Checking with illustrated book published by the N. Y. Public Library in 1931 called "The Ulster County Gazette" by R. W. G. Vail, also the Magazine Antiques of Jan. 1931. I do not see a heading like that in any of the illustrations, but of course I may be wrong. They both have complete illustrations of the original Jan. 4, 1800 issue.

The items are interesting for under the picture it reads in part from this Indianapolis, Indiana paper. "The old newspaper was found when a building was razed recently at 1241 N. Alabama etc."

Myrtle Barker who writes a column in that newspaper called "My Window" writes in part: "Charles H. Sides who is a pharmacist, was working in the drugstore when a laborer brought a small parcel to show him. It seems this man had been hired to clear out all the accumulated rubble and debris in a church basement, which was being taken down. He ran across a long roll, wrapped in oil-cloth. The man tore off the covering, and there was the yellowed newspaper, a four page affair measuring some 17 by 11 inches. The laborer was not interested in the paper, so gave it to the pharmacist." From then on Miss Barker quotes from our local newspaper reprinted so many times since it was printed in 1800. "Too bad it was not wrapped in an old newspaper, then a real date could be had when the item was put away. The oil-cloth might also be a clue. Anyway, the pharmacist, can now frame this old paper and put it in his window, and astound his customers, and Kingston will get some more publicity."

The strike in N. Y. C. makes us appreciate the pleasure of a daily newspaper. Yesterday's newspaper maybe the shelf paper of tomorrow, but just the same, such newspapers as the original Jan. 4, 1800 Ulster County Gazette still demands attention and publicity. I cannot imagine New York City without its news stands, without its youthful voices calling out, "What-do-you-read?" Can you imagine New York subway riders without their papers, T.V. and radio will never replace the power of the press.

BRIDGE South Makes Bad Contract

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One test of a good player is his ability to make the best of a bad contract.

West's two spade opening was one of those weak two bids that are popular in expert circles. This time it gave North and South a bidding problem. Left to themselves they would have stopped at a comfortable four hearts. The impetus of the weak two bid got them to the five level.

South won the opening spade lead and took stock. He had a spade loser and two possible diamond losers. Of course, if East held the king of diamonds there would only be one diamond lost, but South saw how to make the hand even if West held that king.

He cashed dummy's ace of clubs and ruffed a club. He entered dummy with a trump, then ruffed the last club. Another trump lead to dummy pulled the opponents' last trump.

Now he led a spade from dummy and put in the eight spot. West won with the nine and found himself end-played.

A spade lead would set up South's jack for a discard of a diamond from dummy. A club lead, if he had one, would allow a ruff and discard. West led a diamond. South allowed this to

Saugerties Youth Enlists, in Training

John Kerbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kerbert of 48 Elm Street, Saugerties, enlisted in the regular Navy Dec. 27. He was immediately transferred to the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., where he will undergo 10 weeks of recruit training. Upon completion of this training he will be granted recruit leave to return home and visit his parents and friends.

He is a graduate of Saugerties High School and enlisted under Navy's High School Graduate Training Program as a high school airman recruit which assures him of technical training in one of 14 schools in the aviation field. He was formerly employed by the Grand Union Company in Saugerties and enlisted through the Navy Recruiting Station in the Post Office Building, Kingston.

Recent Graduate

James F. Coppage, aviation electrician's mate airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Coppage of Napanoch, graduated recently from Aviation Electrician's Mate School at the Naval Air Technical Training Unit, Jacksonville, Fla. The 22-week course covers basic electricity and the operation and maintenance of electrical equipment used in naval aviation.

Promoted to Captain

Earl M. Devine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Devine Sr., Route 1, Highland, recently was promoted to captain in Germany, where he is serving with the 6th Artillery.

Captain Devine, executive officer of the artillery's Battery D, entered the Army in 1958 and arrived overseas in September 1961.

The 26-year-old officer is a 1953 graduate of Highland High School and a 1958 graduate of Oklahoma State University, Stillwater.

Airman Reassigned

RONALD G. ERICHSEN
LACKLAND AFB, Tex.—Airman Basic Ronald G. Erichsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Erichsen of RFD 1, New Paltz, is being reassigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., for technical training as a United States Air Force air armament mechanic.

Airman Erichsen, who completed the first phase of his military training here, was selected for the specialized course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes.

The airman is a 1962 graduate of New Paltz Central High School.

Receives Promotion

ANDREWS AFB, Md.—Fredrick E. Ott of Mineola, has been promoted to technical sergeant in the United States Air Force.

Sergeant Ott, an aircraft structural repair technician, is assigned to the 125th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron here.

The sergeant, a former student at Mineola High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Ott of RFD 1, Mountain Road, Rosendale, N. Y.

Sergeant Ott and his wife, Barbara, formerly of 150 Jerome Avenue, Mineola, have three children.

Stern Warning Issued After False Alarm

The Glasco Fire Company answered an alarm on Tuesday around 5:30 p. m. following a call to headquarters that there was a fire in the basement of the home at 63 Appletree Drive, only to find on arrival that it was a false alarm.

Commissioner Mike Mauro, chairman of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Glasco Fire District, issued a stern warning that evening that every effort will be made to apprehend the person responsible for the call and a warrant will be made for his arrest. Mauro said that this is the seventh false alarm answered in this specific area within the last month.

The call was received by Ben Ebel of the fire company who quoted the male caller as saying that there was a fire in the basement of the home of Mrs. Kay Linden at the above address. Mauro stressed the fact that in addition to the anguish suffered by the occupants of the home, the firemen's lives should be considered during the icy conditions of the roads when answering calls. He said the fire truck weighs 14 tons and is manned by six or seven volunteer firemen who could be seriously maimed or killed if it should hit ice on the way to a fire. In addition to the truck many volunteer firemen ride in their own cars to the scene jeopardizing their own lives to assist others in the emergency.

Mauro said it is the responsibility of parents, also, to have their children understand the importance of the offense and what it means to the people involved when a false alarm is made.

Fear 6-11 Dead In Explosion at Indiana Plant

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—An explosion ripped diagonally through the Home Packing Co. today, killing 6 to 11 workers and injuring about 35 others.

Fire Chief Norman Fesler said six bodies had been removed.

Five other workers spotted in the rubble were presumed dead.

At least one survivor was in the ruins, and rescuers worked gingerly toward him, hoping to avoid injuring him more.

Police and firemen believed the blast occurred in a basement boiler room, demolishing a path across the production section of the two-story riverfront building. The southwest corner of the structure was left intact.

Ammonia gas, apparently escaping from ruptured refrigeration lines, hampered the rescue work, and a coal mine rescue squad used gas masks to dig into the rubble.

Company officials had trouble determining exactly how many production workers were in the wrecked section. They set up a temporary office, asking other workers to register for an accounting. Early estimates had about eight unaccounted for in the ruins.

The blast occurred about 7:30 a.m. (CST) as the day workers were reporting at the riverfront plant.

Workers Aid Rescue
About 75 workers joined in rescue efforts, including six fire companies, civil defense workers and city and state police.

Terre Haute, a city of 72,500, is 70 miles west of Indianapolis near the Illinois line.

The plant is located on the Washburn River at the north edge of the city, two blocks north of U. S. 40. No main thoroughfares were blocked.

Ten firefighters units dug into the rubble to search for those unaccounted for.

A boiler explosion was advanced as the possible cause of the blast. No fire resulted.

More than 30 members of the day production force were at work when the blast blew off the roof and demolished the southeast wall of the plant.

Mission Speaker Slated at Two Area Churches

Miss Harriet Pease who has completed 10 years of service in Japan with the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society will be guest speaker at Phoenix and West Shokan Baptist Churches this weekend.

She will be at West Shokan Saturday 7:30 p. m. and Sunday 3:15 p. m. and at Phoenix Sunday 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. She will show slides of her work at the evening services.

Miss Pease served as house mother at the Japan Christian Academy, Tokyo, a school for missionary children. She also did evangelistic work in northern Japan.

A graduate of Moses Taylor Hospital School of Nursing, Scranton, Pa., and Houghton College, Houghton, she served in the U. S. Navy Nurse Corps for two years. After a year of furlough in the United States, Miss Pease will return to Japan to continue missionary work.

Inaugural Quips

No Eye to Greener Pastures: Romney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A leading but unannounced contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination and an oft-mentioned darkhorse candidate for GOP standard-bearer were among several governors sworn into office New Year's Day.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, one of the foremost possible presidential selections of the GOP, began his second term of office.

George W. Romney, a darkhorse GOP choice, was inaugurated to serve his first term as Michigan's governor.

Romney said he did not have "an eye to greener pastures somewhere else."

What Others Said
Here is some of what they and other governors said in their inaugural addresses:

Rockefeller, 54, called for fiscal integrity in government.

"I believe that political leaders have the affirmative duty ruthlessly to prune out wasteful and nonessential expenditures of the taxpayers' money," Rockefeller said.

Local Attorney To Head Mental Health Campaign

The Board of Directors of Ulster County Association for Mental Health, Inc., announced today the appointment of Attorney George A. Beck of this city as general chairman of the Association's annual fund drive. The drive within Kingston is scheduled to be conducted as a house-to-house campaign Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Jan. 9 and 10.

Beck, who lives at 11 Linderman Avenue, is a graduate of the Kingston schools, and holds a BS degree from Siena College and an LLB from Albany Law School. A veteran of Army service in Europe, Beck, founded the Muscular Dystrophy Chapter in Ulster County and acted as its first president.

He is chairman of the Kingston Zoning Board; Ulster County chairman of USO; a member of the Kiwanis Club of Kingston; Knights of Columbus; Catholic War Veterans and many other civic, fraternal and religious organizations.

An attorney, Beck is a member of the firm of Ewig & Beck of this city; treasurer of the Ulster County Bar Association and a member of the New York State Bar Association. He is admitted to practice law before all of the courts of New York State and before the United States Supreme Court. He is married to the former Margaret Anne Kelleher and is the father of four children, Kathleen, Harry, Gerald and Rita.

In accepting the general chairmanship, Beck said: "I am proud to be associated with the Ulster County Association for Mental Health and to have this opportunity to be of service in the furtherance of that organization's laudable aims and purposes. We have come a long way in the recognition of mental illness as a disease on a par with many other disabling physical illnesses. Those afflicted with mental illness literally cram our hospitals and institutions; yet, with early recognition and proper care, many of these patients can be either completely cured or at least restored to a useful place in their families and their communities. The Ulster County Association, in directing public attention to the basic facts of mental health and in focussing public awareness of the need for adequate facilities for the treatment of the mentally ill, has done much to further these purposes. In this county will join with me in making this fund campaign a great success."

It was also announced that division and ward chairmen would be announced by Friday of this week. Beck further asked for volunteers to work as "Bell Ringers" for Mental Health to contact him or their area chairmen, when announced.

"We must strive even more ceaselessly" to extend opportunity and dignity to "every member of all groups in our society, no matter what his race, color, religion, origin or status."

Romney, 55, pleaded for an end to "the cold war that has been hindering our state's progress."

"Our troubles have focused the national spotlight on Michigan, and solving these troubles will focus the national spotlight on these solutions," Romney said.

Lists His Guides
"Concentration on the job at hand, not campaigning constantly for re-election, and dedication to that job, without an eye to greener pastures somewhere else, are other basic tenets of conscientious public officials. As governor these will be my guides."

Rhode Island—John H. Chafee, 40, Republican, first term: "Industrial growth with the resulting increase in jobs is the most important single problem facing our state. Every bit of its energy will be devoted to solving this problem."

New Mexico—Jack M. Campbell, 46, Democrat, first term: "I shall do my best to merit the confidence you have placed in me."

EDITOR'S NOTE—The day is past when Uncle Sam foots the bill for shows, pleasure boats and lavish dining-out disguised as business costs. Proof must replace "reasonable estimates" of outlays for business travel, entertainment and gifts. This is the first of three articles on the new tax regulations.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before bedtime on this first business day of the new year, several million Americans will be jotting down entries in a brand new 1963 expense diary.

Many are grumbling about this daily ritual inflicted on them by Congress and the Internal Revenue Service.

Comparatively few know, at this stage, exactly what's expected of them under the new law passed by Congress to "squeeze the fun and profit out of 'expense account living'."

The IRS regulation which spells out the new rules for "T & E"—which is lawyers' shorthand for tax-deductible outlays for travel, entertainment and business gifts—took effect Tuesday.

The Internal Revenue commissioner, Mortimer M. Caplin, calls it "reasonable and practical." He also says it is "quite demanding"—stiff enough to "make expense account living a thing of the past."

Affects One in 10
Most taxpayers needn't worry. Only one out of 10 is affected—the one who claims I & E deductions on his income tax returns.

Just what this paperwork must cover still isn't definite. The IRS is writing still more rules and will issue the next batch of regulations in February.

For a starter, here are basic guidelines:

Every taxpayer who expects to claim deductions for business, entertainment, travel or gifts on a 1963 tax return must keep a true, current and quite detailed record of such spending.

There is no arbitrary ceiling on travel or entertainment costs—so you can deduct them if you can prove them. But they must be "directly related" to a business purpose, not just a general bid for business good will.

There is, however, an arbitrary limit for business gifts. Your presents can be as costly as you please, but you cannot take a deduction for more than $25 in gifts to any one recipient in any one year.

And if you spend $25 or more on a single item of travel or entertainment cost, you must keep a receipt or voucher to show the tax man if he demands it.

You must maintain a diary account book, expense statement, or other record to show all T & E outlays big or small. The entries must be made within a day or two of the expenditure, and must contain these substantiating details:

1. The time and place of travel, or entertainment, or the date and description of a gift.

2. The business purpose of the outlay.

3. The time and place of travel, or entertainment, or the date and description of a gift.

4. The business relationship to you of the person entertained or given a present.

There are a multitude of further rules, details, instructions, exceptions and elaborations. Some of these represent important changes from the tentative T & E regulation issued by IRS Nov. 8.

The preliminary order was so severe that it brought hundreds of outraged businessmen pouring into Washington to give battle.

IRS softened the final regulation. For instance, it boosted from $10 to $25 the expenditure for which receipts or vouchers must be kept as proof.

But Caplin recognized that it would be asking the impossible to make taxpayers start toiling the mark as of Jan. 1, even though the regulation will apply to the full 1963 tax return.

Accordingly, he granted a 30-day "familiarization" period. Revenue agents were instructed to allow "reasonable tolerance" for this one month for taxpayers who make a good-faith effort to comply as rapidly as possible.

For the thousands of business firms which face mechanical difficulties in changing their bookkeeping, a 90-day grace period is given to companies which try in good-faith to achieve the earliest possible compliance.

This will afford time for corporations to prepare, print and distribute new forms and instructions for employees and branches around the world, re-program their electronic business machines and arrange for the handling and storage of sales of vouchers, receipts and expense statements which must be kept to satisfy the new vigilance of Uncle Sam.

Fumes Fatal to Two
Four teen-agers died in sledding accidents, including two that were smothered under an avalanche of snow.

Two separate instances of carbon monoxide poisoning took five lives in Buffalo.

The avalanche killed Thomas Vale, 14, and Daniel Mehl, 13, in Taberg, Oneida County, Monday. The sheriff's office said the boys were about halfway up a hill when an outcropping of snow broke off and swept them to the base of the 100-foot high incline.

Arthur Cosgrove, 16, of Hastings-on-Hudson, was killed Monday when his sled and another collided. Linda Miller, 13, of Rochester died Monday when the toboggan on which she was riding smashed into a tree.

Unburned gas from a space heater in the living room of a Buffalo apartment was blamed for the death Tuesday of Baltazar Hernandez, about 38, Miss Marta Rosas, about 26, and her daughter, Marta, 2.

Mrs. Bessie Tilford, 42, and a neighbor, Kenneth Ales, 18, died Tuesday from fumes from an improperly vented space heater in Mrs. Tilford's apartment, also in Buffalo.

Other accidental deaths reported since Monday noon, by communities:

Middletown — Frank Mann, 55, of Middletown, car struck a railroad abutment Monday.

Penn Yan — Chauncey Darragh, 62, of Penn Yan, died of exposure Monday after he fell in a field near his home and his head struck the frozen ground.

Albion — Albert Diniak, 44, of Albion, car struck a tree Tuesday.

East Aurora — Mrs. Frank Pich, 42, truck hit a utility pole Tuesday.

Castile — Charles T. Clark, 24, of Castile, car and a switch engine collided at a crossing Tuesday.

Alexandria Bay — Helmut H. Tietjen, 29, of Yorkers, two-car collision Sunday; he died Tuesday.

Appreciation From Bar
A communication was read from William D. Brinnier, president of the Ulster County Bar Association, thanking the board for its recent action in adopting a resolution authorizing a new county office building and for removal of the court house.

A communication was received from a "taxpayer," who did not sign the letter, expressing disapproval over any appropriation for the Mental Health program. It said the best interest of the county would be served by making no appropriation for this program. It was filed.

A report of the county superintendent of highways was received and filed and the board adopted the equalization rates previously suggested by the state.

Insurance Plan Adopted
A resolution was adopted authorizing the county to participate in the State Health Insurance plan as suggested at a prior meeting. This will give employees added benefits.

The board voted to renew the county contract with the Kingston City Laboratory.

In the absence of Minority Leader John J. Gaffney, who is in Florida, Supervisor John C. Quimby (D), Marlboro, acted as minority leader.

The usual resolutions on approval of tax rolls and collection of taxes were unanimously voted.

Cold in VA Ward

low zero, and the Weather Bureau reported wind gusts up to 55 miles an hour.

The ward is on the sixth floor of the hospital's northwest wing. An undetermined number of patients from other rooms in the wing also were moved to the central section of the hospital because of the severe cold.

Dr. Richard B. Bean, hospital manager, said low temperatures had been a problem in the wing every winter.

Bean said the hospital's heating plant was operating properly.

"The problem is the windows, which were not constructed right in the first place," he said.

The manager added he had been trying to get full-length storm windows for years, but "there is not enough money."

Applicants for the fire department test must be residents of the city, but residents of Ulster, Greene, Columbia, Dutchess, Orange and Delaware Counties may take the examination for appointment to the police department.

Information on the tests may be obtained from the Municipal Civil Service Commission, city hall.

The salary range for both departments is $4,640 to $5,000.

Aldermen Report Complaints on No School Buses

Alderman Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, Common Council majority leader, today said he has received complaints dealing with a reported lack of transportation arrangements for some lower-grade pupils who are to attend the Sophie Finn School, Mary's Avenue.

Sass said he was told that no school bus service has been provided for pupils from Abeel Street areas. Similar complaints, he said, have been received by Alderman Arthur Smith (D) Eighth Ward. All complaints, Sass said, are to be referred to the education board. Parents claim, he said, that the children are too small to walk long distances.

Party Sandwiches

One and one half cups (1/2 pound) dried apricots, 1 cup water, 1/2 cup maraschino cherries, drained; 1 egg, well beaten; 1 cup buttermilk, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 2 1/2 cups sifted flour, 3/4 cup sugar, 4 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup (4 ounces) coarsely chopped nuts, 1 8-ounce package cream cheese.

Wash, drain, dry and coarsely chop apricots. Simmer in water for 10 minutes or until most of the water is absorbed. Drain and set aside to cool. Cut cherries in halves and add with egg, buttermilk and butter to apricots, blending well. Sift dry ingredients into mixing bowl; add nuts. Add moist ingredients and mix until blended.

Turn into a buttered 5 1/2 x 9 1/4 x 2 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake in a 350-degree oven for one hour or until done. Cool thoroughly. Cut into very thin slices. Spread slices with softened cream cheese. Place two slices together to make sandwiches and cut in half. Serve with Party Punch. Makes one loaf—36 finger sandwiches.

Science Advisory Group Criticized by Van Allen

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The President's Science Advisory Committee has drawn sharp criticism from Dr. James Van Allen, discoverer of the radiation belt bearing his name, for a committee statement on radiation effects of a nuclear test last July.

David Becker, executive secretary of the committee, answered that "the committee is a highly competent scientific group with a good reputation for hearing all views."

Van Allen's remarks were made Sunday at the closing sessions of the 129th meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

In other developments at the meeting, a space agency official announced the United States plans to land an expeditionary force of robot detectives on Mars in 1966 to search for life there. He described the ingenious devices being developed or studied to carry out the assignment.

Space doctors weighing the risks stresses and safety factors for the Apollo moon flights expected by 1970 reported there will be an astronaut retirement age for astronauts flying to the moon. They said this would not be in terms of years but in exposure to penetrating radiation in space.

The Van Allen dispute grew out of a Science Advisory Committee report in August which implied that a nuclear test last July 250 miles above Johnston Island in the Pacific had created an artificial radiation belt that would last long and was stronger than had been predicted.

Evidence from more than a half dozen satellites now passing through the artificial radiation belts indicates the committee statement was wrong, Van Allen said. He predicted the most durable radiation would last not more than a few years and probably would not be detectable by next summer.

Van Allen, of the State University of Iowa, said the committee had relied almost solely on information obtained by the Telstar satellite lifted right after the blast and had ignored evidence from the Injun satellite.

He accused the committee of being hasty and "government-dominated." He said he felt "exceedingly intimidated" on the occasions he has been before the advisory committee, headed by Dr. Jerome B. Weisner.

Dr. James W. Warwick, radio astronomer of the high-altitude observatory at Boulder, Colo., said his studies made with radio measurements generally agreed with Van Allen's and were "inconsistent" with the government's report.

In New York, Dr. I. I. Rabi, Columbia University physicist and consultant-at-large to the committee, said both Van Allen and Warwick "know very well that when evidence is not complete, the results cannot be accurately predicted."

"There are times when practical action must be taken for various reasons," said Rabi. "I regret that Dr. Van Allen was not consulted beforehand, since he seems to be the final authority."

Welfare Staffs Will Be Expanded

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Board of Social Welfare says many local welfare districts will have to expand their staffs and increase salaries to meet the requirements of a new federal welfare program.

The program places increased emphasis on rehabilitation and training and increases from 50 to 75 per cent the federal share in meeting the costs of the program.

The objectives of the program are to restore families and individuals to self-support, help the aged, blind or seriously disabled to care for themselves, strengthen family life and otherwise safeguard the physical, mental and moral well-being of children.

The board, in a letter Sunday to city and county officials, urged that public welfare districts be authorized to begin implementation of the new program as soon as possible.

Many of the state's welfare districts, the board said, will have to increase their staffs, raise salaries to recruit and hold competent employees and establish training programs to keep staffs at top efficiency.

But the board said it believed that "the new public welfare system will save public funds now by treating current problems and save public funds in the future by preventing many of these problems."

Hydroelectric Potential

The Grand Falls of Labrador's Hamilton River are a huge untapped source of hydroelectric power. Second only to Niagara in North America is the volume of water that boils through 4 miles of rapids, drops 245 feet and races through a 12-mile canyon. Menu term: maitre d'hotel means a mixture of butter, lemon juice and parsley.

To All Our Friends...

Throughout 1962 we have achieved many of the goals we set for ourselves to give better service to you and to our community. We sincerely believe that you have appreciated this. Never static, however, we have many new plans for 1963, always keeping in mind that our services must be constantly improved.

Thank you very much for the opportunities you have given us to serve you this past year. To you and yours we extend our best wishes for "A HEALTHY, HAPPY, AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR."

We'll bet the annual Christmas bonus some people will get is already gone.

I once engaged board and lodging at the house of a retired New England sea captain, says a New York artist, and from him I received some sincere advice.

One day, while I was busily painting, I became aware that the captain's house had been with, an artist boarder for several years, and that I was the first follower of the impressionistic school it had ever harbored.

The old sea-dog gazed thoughtfully at the lower right hand corner of the canvas, where I had thrown a mass of parti-colored splashes and sploches.

Sea Captain — You're kinder young. This is your first summer outdoors at it?

Artist — Yes.

Sea Captain — Well, now, see here, there's two or three old palates up in our shed chamber. You go get you one of those and try out your paints on that instead of on your picture. You'll have to lose that whole corner of your canvas, I'll bet you, and it'll make your picture considerable smaller. I wouldn't do that again if I was you.

An imposing cemetery was opened in a young and thriving town in the Middle West. The mayor, who had charge of the laying of the grounds, was puzzled for an appropriate inscription to be placed over the gate. Riding along in his car one day he was cogitating over different holy texts, which were not entirely satisfactory; so he explained his difficulty to his chauffeur, an intensely practical man. Without hesitation the chauffeur suggested:

"We have come to stay."

Teacher — What is the surest way to keep milk from souring. Dorothy — Leave it in the cow.

Old coins are often worth a fortune and as every girl knows, the same holds true for old bucks.

When he told his parents he had secured a job at the blacksmith shop, they laughed and said:

Parents — You surely don't mean to tell us that a little fellow like you can shoe horses. Little Boy — No but I can shoo flies.

STRIKING UP A STORM—Heat radiation from a cigarette lighter looks like a thunderstorm and heat from a human hand creates a halo effect in this picture taken at Northrop's hypersonic wind tunnel in Hawthorne, Calif. Air is ordinarily invisible, but with the aid of an arrangement of prisms and mirrors called a schlieren optical system, wind tunnel engineers can see air pressure changes. During actual tests in the tunnel, scale models of aircraft and space vehicles are subjected to airflow up to 14 times the speed of sound. Schlieren pictures show shock waves and other pressure changes which help engineers improve the vehicles' design.

K Has Rough Year, Another Tough One Ahead

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has just finished the worst year he has had since Stalin, and he is due for a tough year ahead.

The thing that made 1962 so bad for him was the same island—Cuba—that made 1961 bad for President Kennedy.

Cuba put Premier Khrushchev on the defensive in the cold war and in the equally troublesome battle for leadership in the Communist camp.

In the Soviet Union he put the best possible light on the Cuba fiasco. It has been pictured not only by the premier himself but in dozens of newspapers and magazines as a victory for Khrushchev. They say he saved mankind from a nuclear war the Americans were ready to force on the world if the Soviet Union had not acted.

Story Believed to Degree
The story is believed here, to some degree, but not completely.

One of the troublesome items is the split with China. Soviet people don't know much about it yet, but they are beginning to understand that China is challenging the Soviet Union for leadership in the Communist camp.

But after all, China is far away. What hits closer to home is the continued difficulty with the economy. Every Soviet citizen knows about that. He meets it across the counter in the butcher shop, where fresh meat is extremely scarce. He sees a few tomatoes one the open market. A pound can cost a skilled mechanic a day's wages.

Agricultural Lag
Soviet authorities have not been able to conceal the hard fact that while production is increasing, it is not increasing as fast as it should. That is especially true in agriculture.

The top party leaders bewail lack of enthusiasm for hard work on the part of farmers and shopworkers. The zeal to work for the revolution has diminished. When things get bad people may pack up and quit.

All these things put new troubles on the back of Premier Khrushchev, and it can't be forgotten he is approaching 70.

Yacht Club Destroyed

Croton-On-Hudson, N.Y. (AP)—A fire Tuesday destroyed the Croton Yacht Club, which was built on a barge anchored in the Hudson River.

Firemen estimated damage at more than $10,000. The blaze was discovered several hours after a New Year's Eve party at the club ended at 3 a.m.

Both New Year's Babies

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP)—She was a New Year's baby. Now her son is.

Mrs. Anthony Grillon, who was born in Geneva General Hospital 23 years ago Tuesday, gave birth New Year's Day to the city's first baby, a seven-pound, two-ounce boy.

Follies, With Clothing

NEW YORK (AP)—An edition of France's "Folies Bergere," but with performers more fully garbed than in the Paris original, is to be staged at the 1964-65 New York's World's Fair.

Plans for the entertainment are included in a $10-million Gallie Pavilion that will house a 1,500-seat auditorium and a duplicate of another leading Paris tourist attraction, Maxim's Restaurant.

This Year Marks 100th Anniversary Of Emancipation

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—In celebration of the 100th anniversary of the abolition of slavery, 1963 is "Emancipation Proclamation Year" in New York State.

Gov. Rockefeller said Monday in a proclamation that "until the day dawns when complete emancipation becomes an actuality, it remains the responsibility of our citizens to nurture not only the principals but to work for the fulfillment of the human and civil rights to which all people of the nation are entitled."

Troopers Arrest Man, Threatened To Kill Family

MEDINA, N.Y. (AP)—State Police say a man threatened to kill his wife and six children during a family dispute early New Year's morning.

Charles E. Smith, 38, was charged Tuesday with first-degree assault after he was arrested at his farm, five miles north of this Orleans County community.

Twelve troopers surrounded Smith's farm and used floodlights after, they said, Mrs. Smith telephoned for help.

They said Smith threatened his wife, Joyce, and then struggled with his son, Hoyt, 12, for the shotgun he was carrying. The gun discharged during the scuffle, narrowly missing Mrs. Smith, troopers said.

He was held in county jail pending hearing in family court. Bail was set at $5,000.

Favor Shelter Program

FRANKLIN, N.Y. (AP)—A 10-member citizens advisory committee in this Long Island community today recommended to the board of education the immediate development of a community-wide fallout shelter program.

Seymour H. Kligler, president of the board of Union Free School District 17, said the committee report indicates that modifications to existing structures and new shelter construction should be undertaken jointly by the board and the community.

Kligler said the board will hold a public hearing on the report Jan. 30 before deciding whether to carry out the recommendations.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A cookbook writer once explained that the way most "new" dishes are developed is by adding an extra ingredient to an old recipe or by substituting one thing for another—nutmeg for cinnamon, for instance.

cooking up a panel show called "What's My Line?" more than a decade ago. Now there are programs using the same basic recipe scattered through television schedules like raisins in a fruit-cake.

Ingredients of the most successful include liberal quantities of celebrities, mixed into a rather simple guessing game. It is spiced by small talk, wisecracks and commercial plugs by the celebrities. The recipe always permits some participation by the audience—a vital element in the recipe.

Now still another variation of the good old recipe has been launched, "The Match Game." It will be available hereafter daily from 4 to 4:25 p.m. (EST) on NBC.

The first game was played on Monday and if you like "Password" you'll probably like this one too.

Arlene Francis, a good gameswoman who can be counted upon for amusing side remarks, was captain of a team of three. The other two players were, as in all good television games, chosen from the studio audience. Skitch Henderson captained the rival team.

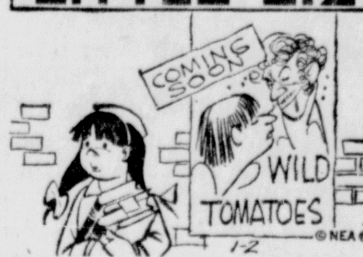

Leader Gene Rayburn, in one round, instructed each player to write the name of a "game played on grass." Members of Henderson's team picked golf, croquet and football. But Miss Francis and another member of her team chose tennis, which constituted a "Match" and a "win."

That's all there is to it—except the complicated scoring, the usual buzzers, bells, gadgets and chit-chat. It's an innocuous time-killer and obviously will not do much to lift daytime television levels.

Recommended tonight: "The First Lady," CBS, 7:30-8 (EST)—first of a series about wives of presidents from Washington to Kennedy.

Katrine Pastor Elevated to Monsignor Rank

The investiture of the pastor of St. Catherine Laboure Church, Lake Katrine as domestic prelate with the title of Right Reverend Monsignor will take place at the 11 a. m. Mass Jan. 6.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. James J. McNally was elevated to his new rank by Pope John XXIII on Dec. 19, the 31st anniversary of his ordination. Announcement was made by the Most Rev. John J. Maguire, vicar general of the archdiocese, who will participate in the investiture. Other church dignitaries will attend.

Msgr. McNally has been pastor of St. Catherine Laboure Church since Nov. 19, 1960. During that time the church and school have been completed. A convent to house seven teaching sisters for the school is being planned. Four classes for 147 pupils were begun in September of this year.

Native of Mechanicsville

Born May 12, 1907 in Mechanicsville, the son of James Henry and Sara Ellen Mars McNally, Msgr. McNally attended St. Joseph's Seminary, Dunwoodie. He was ordained to the priesthood Dec. 19, 1931 at St. Patrick's Cathedral by the late Patrick Cardinal Hayes.

Following ordination he assisted at two Manhattan parishes, Holy Innocents and Blessed Sacrament. In November, 1947, he was transferred to St. Mary's Church, Mt. Vernon where he served until Sept. 30, 1950. For nine years he assisted at the Church of Our Lady Queen in Mary's in Manhattan and prior to being appointed to the local church he was at St. Rose of Lima Church, Manhattan.

Also elevated to the rank of Domestic Prelate was a former area pastor, the Rt. Rev. Msgr.

RT. REV. MSGR. JAMES J. McNALLY

Jeremiah F. Nemecek, now pastor of St. John's Church, Goshen, Msgr. Nemecek was pastor of St. John's, West Hurley, St. Joan of Arc, Woodstock and St. Augustine's, West Shokan, for three years. He was appointed to the Goshen pastorate Nov. 5, 1960.

Orchids Followed

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — For 40 years Mrs. Edgar A. Jones of Richmond and Mrs. Rebecca Robinson Browning of Hilo, Hawaii, exchanged letters. It started when they were in junior high schools. Then when Mrs. Jones' daughter, Jerry Lee, decided to get married, Mrs. Browning called by telephone. It was the first time they had heard the other's voice. And 100 orchids followed by air for the wedding.

Snow Avalanche Takes Lives of 2 On Sledding Hill

TABERG, N.Y. (AP) — Tracks left in the snow by two teen-aged boys led about halfway up the 100-foot-high sledding hill in this Oneida County village. There they were obliterated.

At the base of the hill, searchers found the bodies of Thomas Vale, 14, and Daniel Mehl, 13, buried under several feet of snow. They had suffocated.

Deputy Sheriff Thomas Outtrim said the boys and their sleds were swept down the hill Monday by an avalanche of snow from an overhang that collapsed.

27 Made Homeless By Endicott Fire

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP) — Twenty-seven persons, including 15 children were homeless today after a New Year's Day fire that destroyed a downtown building that contained two stores and six apartments.

One of the occupants of the two-story frame building and a fireman suffered minor injuries. Firemen said the flames broke out in the basement.

Another fire Tuesday, on Main Street in Mechanicsville, destroyed a three-story business and apartment building. Six families were evacuated without injury.

The brick building housed three stores, in addition to apartments. In neither fire was the cause determined nor had an estimate of the loss been made.

New Year Could Result in More Talking

Despite Bloody Start, 1963 May Be Less Hair-Raising

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The new year started with blood — fighting in the Congo and Viet Nam — just as 1962 started with assassinations in Algeria. Yet 1963 may be far less hair-raising, although much more talkative, than the year just ended.

If it is, it will be because 1962 turned out to be such a shocker before it was over. This was the Cuban crisis. No sign of any such crisis is in sight now. If anything, relations between the United States and Russia should be a little more sensible.

Split Biggest Hope

The biggest hope in the West is that the Soviet-Red Chinese partnership will split and, in splitting, cut the Communist world in half. Their relations now are strained to bursting by recriminations whose real origins no doubt run deeper than anyone here knows.

The biggest immediate problem of the West is whether Western Europe shall achieve real economic unity and whether, particularly in the case of France, it will be content to save its money by letting the United States remain its nuclear guardian.

The Algerian massacres ended at last in 1962 in independence from France for the Algerians. The struggles in the Congo and Viet Nam were going on last year, and the year before, and in one form or another will probably be there in 1964, too.

Just Dilemmas on Fringes

They can be lived with so long as they remain dilemmas on the fringes of the rest of the world. What did not end until last year was almost over was the reckless — crazy — is a better word — determination of communist to test the will of the United States to resist a Red push even in its own back yard.

This Russian attempt to slip missiles into Cuba was a gamble as the Soviets demonstrated by backing down when challenged. What they showed was that they positively lacked the will, and very probably the weapons for a showdown, at least then.

Premier Khrushchev cannot survive many such humiliating defeats, although in typical Moscow fashion he sought to make his withdrawal look like the act of a humanitarian.

Therefore, it can reasonably be expected he will now pause for station identification before taking another risk. He has shown signs of soft-pedaling his demands on Berlin.

After the Cuban crisis there were optimistic pronouncements out of Washington that big changes were in the making around the world. They may be, indeed. But as of now there is no evidence to support the optimism.

Khrushchev's pause can take two forms:

Two Areas Open for Nik

1. He can make tremendous effort to achieve overwhelming weapons superiority for Russia. If that could be done, it would take years. But it would also mean enormous sacrifices for the Russian people who are just beginning to enjoy some comforts.

2. He can drop his ambitions for a Communist world — at least for a time — and seek reasonable relations, perhaps even solutions, with his Western neighbors.

This will become a necessity for him if Russia splits with Red China.

Although the Cuban crisis demonstrated that nuclear chaos can happen suddenly, it seems highly unlikely that the United States and Russia will in 1963 agree to disarmament or perhaps even to an inspected ban on nuclear testing.

Neither is likely to strip or limit itself in weapons — even if they could otherwise agree — so long as Red China remains both hostile and unpredictable, continues to build its arms, and is not a party to agreement.

These next few years will seem extraordinarily calm and uncomplicated compared with what lies ahead when Red China develops its own nuclear weapons and begins to assert itself in a way which is too risky so long as it lacks such weapons.

Europe — meaning Britain and France — is so far behind the United States in the development of nuclear weapons it would take years, if ever, to catch up. The United States is against their trying.

Big, Busy Year Ahead

It offers itself as the loyal ally who will use its weapons to protect Europe in case of need. It suggests its allies put their money into things other than trying to build individual nuclear forces.

This has not pleased French President de Gaulle. He may resist, preferring his usual do-it-yourself system for France. This whole problem will be fermented and tortured in the debates of 1963.

So will Europe's economic unity and, in one fashion or another, this country's role in that unity. It will be a big and busy year, certainly big in talk.

Wiltwyck to Elect

The annual meeting and election of officers will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. by Wiltwyck Hose Company in its rooms on Fair Street. All members are urged to attend.

INSURANCE MERGER—Exchanging congratulations as the new insurance corporation, Carey's Agency Inc., goes into effect today are Martin W. Golden, Eugene B. Carey and Leon C. Miller. Golden and Miller merged their agency with that of former Kingston Mayor Carey. The business will have its office in the LeFever Building, 292 Fair Street, Carey who is approaching his 72nd birthday has been in the insurance business for 50 years. Golden began his insurance career in 1937, conducting his own agency since 1948. Miller is a recent graduate of Pohn Insurance Institute of New York City and is a licensed insurance broker and life insurance agent. (Freeman photo)

1,080 Fire Calls Received in '62 At Control Center

Since the Ulster County Fire Control Center was opened in March 1960 at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital on Golden Hill, there have been received a total of 19,548 telephone calls. Of these calls 2,277 have been for fires.

During the past year 1,080 fire calls have been received, this is a considerably greater number than the prior year.

From Jan. 1, 1962 to Dec. 31, 1962, there was received a total of 7,805 calls at the Control Center.

Fire calls totaled 1080, there were 89 Mutual Aid calls and radio tests numbered 761. There were 64 "Quick Calls" and Civil Defense 487 tests numbered 487.

There is a man on duty 24-hours a day ready to receive calls, send out Mutual Aid calls or respond to Civil Defense or other emergency calls to all parts of the county.

Marist Building Damaged by Fire

Fire of unknown origin early this morning damaged a building at the Marist Brothers Novitiate at West Park.

About 3 a. m. fire was discovered in a stone building known as the St. Mary's Building which houses the tailor shop where cassocks are made. Usually one of the Brothers occupies a room in the building but at the time of the fire no one was in the building.

The fire was confined to the lower floor where four rooms, a hallway and the stairway were damaged by fire and there was considerable damage by smoke and heat on the upper floor.

Esopus firemen under the direction of Chief Oscar Lambert responded and Highland tanker was summoned. A call was also sent in for the Rifton tanker.

At the Novitiate today it was reported the cause of the fire was unknown and that the lower floor and stairway had been considerably damaged by fire while the upper floor, which contains some six rooms was damaged by smoke and heat and would have to be redecorated.

England Braces for More Snow

LONDON (AP) — Shivering southern England, buried beneath its worst snows in 82 years, braced today for another blizzard onslaught.

Air Ministry forecasters said snowstorms, harsher than those which already have wrought widespread death and chaos, might strike again today across wide areas of the south.

12,000 Idled

The threat of heavy new snowfalls increased anxiety in scores of villages short of food and isolated for days by mountainous snowdrifts blocking road and rail lines.

As Britain sank deeper into winter, industry began to feel the crippling effects of the ice and snow.

More than 12,000 auto workers at Oxford and in the Midlands were idle because supply trucks couldn't negotiate the ice-glazed roads to deliver parts.

The fierce cold is costing the nation millions of pounds a day in lost working time and increased transport, rescue and road-clearing costs.

The Ministry of Transport said about 10,000 snowplows and other road-clearing machines were at work on the highways.

Southern England was a sea of snow. Not since Jan. 18, 1881—when snow drifted 15 feet high in London's Oxford Circus—has the south seen such snowfalls.

Death Toll at 15

Rarely did the temperature rise above freezing anywhere in Britain Tuesday. The low in London was 29. The low for the nation was 18 at Kinloss, Scotland.

The death toll from the cold mounted. A firm figure was not available, but estimates put it at around 15.

Helicopters, the only sure way of getting across the frozen wastes, flew supplies to beleaguered families and carried seriously ill people to hospitals.

Thousands of troops and police toiled all day trying to hack their way through to marooned communities.

C of C Makes Proposals to Rochester Board

A number of recommendations were presented by the Kerhonkson Area Chamber of Commerce at the December meeting of the Town of Rochester Town Board session. These suggestions were presented for approval and further action.

Joseph Babiarz read letters explaining the recommendations for improvements in highway travel and other matters, in an effort to make the area more inviting for new industry. Also present were Otis Campbell, president, and Joseph Iovino.

A plan for a new county road, accomplished by improving the present Pataukunk Road and extending it east to connect Routes 209 and 28, to cut traveling time from that area going east and west of Routes 209 and 28, was presented. An appropriation was asked to help continue the program of advertising which has already begun. A letter was submitted recommending that Cedar Street be extended to meet Main Street in Kerhonkson by way of a new bridge in order to better serve the public.

To Study Program

After the program had been presented Supervisor A. Richard Terwilliger (R), agreed to study all of the recommendations.

Supervisor Terwilliger's monthly report showed a balance of $8,368.53 in the general fund and $7,447.37 in the highway fund as of Nov. 30. Received for the Highway Fund was $7,489.04 from the Department of Public Works for the 1962 Erwin Road Program. The town's bonded indebtedness was reported as $21,612.80.

A request for installation of a street light on Sheldon Drive, opposite the Schuster residence and between the Lewis and Knowlton residence was approved.

A letter from County Superintendent of Highways Roland Green to Supervisor Terwilliger said that funds had been requested in the 1963 budget for construction of the Cherrytown bridge, but approval of this request by the board of supervisors will determine the time this project can be started as no funds are available at this time for construction of the bridge.

Project Withdrawn

A letter was received from the State Department of Public Works informing the board that in accordance with their request, project No. 26692 has been withdrawn from next year's schedule of Erwin Roads planned for construction. This was a measure agreed upon at the preliminary budget hearing to help cut back the highway department's expenditures.

With a confirmed conviction that the town would benefit in per capita aid if a special town census were taken in order to include all resort and boarding-house owners who are not usually in the town at the time of a Federal enumeration, Councilman Morris Sims presented a letter from the Director of the Bureau of the Census, which said that according to the State Law the census must start April 1, and the results certified by Oct. 1. This would allow time to count all property owners.

Councilman Sims was informed that it would be necessary to contact Congressman J. Ernest Wharton and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson to legally change the place of residence and to count those who temporarily leave the town.

Request Census Action

Sims urged Supervisor Terwilliger to acquire information on the mechanics and advisability of taking a special census starting April 1, 1963. He asked that action be started at once and that any findings in regard to the matter be not held for a regular monthly meeting but that special meeting of the town board be called to receive such information so as to make certain there is ample time to start this program.

The board authorized a letter of thanks to Robert Cole for donation of the name sign on the new Town Building, and for construction of coat racks for the building.

Authority to hold a final meeting of the board at the town clerk's office Dec. 28, for the purpose of auditing bills and inspection of justices' books was voted.

Second Time's Charm

ROCKY POINT, SONORA, Mexico (AP) — Mrs. Bess Cook, fishing in the Gulf of California, hooked a 10-pound grouper.

The played it right up to the boat, but her leader snapped and the fish went back into the water.

On hour later, her husband, Jim, snagged a big grouper and pulled it aboard. In the fish's mouth was Mrs. Cook's hook and bait.

Eighteen tons of equipment, including glacier drills, ice axes, generators, freeze-dried food, oxygen equipment, tents and scientific gear, will be taken on the 1963 American expedition attempting to climb Mount Everest.

Officers Named By Mid-Hudson Library Group

Newly-elected officers of Mid-Hudson Libraries, the five-county library system serving 48 local public libraries in this region, are Mrs. Gerald Carson, Millerton, president; Ben Reifler, Poughkeepsie, vice-president and Herman H. Donley, Brewster, treasurer. New trustees elected to the board are Mrs. R. K. Thomas, Hudson and Dan H. Allen, Kingston. Howard Kelley, Patterson, was re-elected.

Mrs. Carson, wife of Gerald Carson, author, was instrumental as chairman of the planning committee for the Mid-Hudson Valley Library System in bringing together the various libraries now sharing system benefits. Mrs. Carson was a charter member of the library system board.

Charter Members
Reifler, Poughkeepsie businessman, president, Electra Industries, Inc., is also a charter member of the library system board. Donley, retired principal of Brewster High School, and a member of the Brewster Board of Education, has served as treasurer of the library group since it was chartered.

Mrs. Thomas, well-known in Hudson for her many civic activities, is a member of the Women's Non-Partisan League and also serves on the Board of the Hudson Area Association Library which she helped to organize. Mrs. Thomas is a 4-H Club Leader and public affairs leader of Columbia County Home Demonstration.

Allen, now vice-principal, Kingston High School, was formerly guidance counselor for 7th and 8th grades in the Kingston City Schools System. Allen, who was born and reared in Kingston, is a trustee of the Kingston City Library and a member of the Board of Directors of the Ulster County Teachers Credit Union. He was graduated with a B.S. degree from Oswego College and has a M.S. from Albany College; he has also attended New York University.

Kelley is a member of the firm of Eaton & Kelley, building suppliers in Brewster. He is also vice-president of the Putnam County Savings Bank and a member of the Brewster Lions Club.

Notes Benefits

"Member libraries participating in the library system gain many benefits including: free loans of hundreds of books," according to Mrs. Carson, newly-elected president of the organization. "They also share in the central purchasing and processing facilities which save time and money for the local libraries. Member libraries are linked together by weekly delivery and pick-up by truck; also by inter-library loans and reference services which bring resources from a broad area to local libraries. There are cash and book grants; also counseling aids upon request."

The system is governed by elected representatives of the member libraries and is operated by a staff of professional librarians and clerical workers under the direction of Leon Karpel, System Headquarters, a meeting rooms and central book collections are at 103 and 105 Market Street, Poughkeepsie.

Romney Prepared

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Sharp little winds blew across the platform prepared at the state Capitol in Michigan for the inauguration of George Romney as governor.

"Put on your long johns," Mrs. Romney reminded her husband minutes before the ceremony. "I'm going to put some woolies on," said Romney as he ducked into a cloak room.

In a few minutes he emerged and walked, warmly underclothed, onto the chilly platform, for the inauguration. It was 18 degrees above zero.

Promoted by Hercules

Richard A. Leonard has been appointed director of development and operations, Far East, of Hercules Powder Company's International Department. It was announced today. A 1944 graduate of Johns Hopkins University with a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering, Leonard joined Hercules in 1946 as a research chemist at the Parlin, N. J. plant. In 1951, he was appointed research supervisor at the Hopewell, Va. plant, following which he was transferred in 1956 to the Wilmington office as senior technical representative in the Virginia Cellulose Department. In 1959, he was named technical development representative for that department; and in 1961, he transferred to the International Department in that same capacity.

Dick Powell Is Still Gravely Ill

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor-producer Dick Powell, suffering from cancer, remains gravely ill. Powell spent three days at Newport Beach but returned to his Wilshire District apartment for the New Year's holiday. A spokesman said Powell's friends appeared to be more deeply concerned about him Tuesday night. Shortly before Christmas Dr. John C. Sharpe announced that Powell was "a very sick man" and disclosed that Powell's hospitalization Nov. 27 evidently indicated the cancer had spread to the lower back from neck glands and the chest cavity.

Four Yanks Wounded

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Four U.S. servicemen were wounded Tuesday in an operation against Communist guerrillas 60 miles northwest of Saigon. It was understood the men were hurt when a U.S. Army helicopter in which they were flying was hit by Communist ground fire. Fudge made with brown sugar may be prevented from curdling at the beginning of its cooking by constant stirring.

'Uncrowned King' of Senate Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., a power among powerful men, is dead and his death is expected to have wide ranging repercussions in the White House, the Senate and his home state.

The 66-year-old multimillionaire oilman-senator toppled over Tuesday morning as he was telling a story to his physician at Doctors Hospital. He died minutes later. Death was attributed to a coronary occlusion.

Was Making Progress

He entered the hospital Dec. 16 for treatment of a respiratory infection. Doctors found evidence of a heart ailment, but had said he was making good progress.

President Kennedy, who got word of Kerr's death while flying to the Orange Bowl in Miami to see the Oklahoma-Alabama football game, issued a statement hailing Kerr's legislative career as "exceptional."

Gov. J. Howard Edmondson, whose four-year term expires Jan. 14, was shocked at the death of the man sometimes called the uncrowned king of the Senate. Also in Miami for the game, Edmondson conferred with Kerr and said later he would return to Oklahoma City today.

Speculation arose that Edmondson would resign and then be appointed to fill the vacant seat by Lt. Gov. George Nigh.

The first Republican governor in Oklahoma's history, Henry Bellmon, is to be sworn in Jan. 14. It was anticipated that Democrat Edmondson probably would act to have the vacancy filled before then. Congress convenes Jan. 9.

ROBERT S. KERR

Kerr's death brings the Senate lineup to 66 Democrats and 33 Republicans.

Friend, Foe to JFK

Rough hewn, with a cutting tongue and a keen mind, Kerr rose to new heights in the first two years of the Kennedy administration. He became both a powerful friend of some presidential legislation and a powerful foe of other Kennedy proposals.

He led the forces which defeated the President's proposal for a federal health insurance program financed through Social Security in the last session.

But when Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, stepped aside, it was Kerr who carried the ball much of the time to smashing Senate victory for the president's trade program.

The death of Kerr left uncertain the sponsorship and the fate in the Senate of Kennedy's forthcoming tax reduction program.

With Byrd having made it clear he opposes Kennedy's plans for a tax cut without accompanying reductions in spending, administration leaders had hoped to enlist Kerr on their side again, although he, too, had expressed reservations. Sen. Russell V. Long, D-La., ranking Democrat behind Kerr on the Finance Committee, often does not agree with the administration fiscal proposals.

at a cost of $339,000. And, despite fears that the new resurfacing material (Dix-Seal) could not be produced locally, the material was compounded in nearby New Salem, across the Rondout Creek from Kingston.

Furthermore, the street work, as were all the other projects previously mentioned, were done by our own Department of Public Works employees instead of outside contractors. This is one of the things I mean when I speak of bringing greater efficiency to city government by fully utilizing the capabilities of our municipal employees.

Another improvement in city service, which was accomplished at minimum cost while savings were made in the expense of municipal government was the changeover of parking meters to provide a reduction of fees to five cents and a penny. For many of our taxpayers this not only proved to be an added convenience, but also a modest reduction in the money they pay to the city in parking fees, if not in taxes.

Because of these savings, and despite the increases in city services and the demands of other governmental agencies, it will be possible to reduce the property tax rate another 44 cents, and still give our municipal employees raises ranging from $100 to $200 a year.

Municipal Parking Lots

I would also like to mention another theory which has been transformed into realistic action in the past year. That is the program to construct two municipal parking lots in our downtown business district.

It seems obvious that off-street parking lots were badly needed uptown for many years, for the partial completion of just one of the two lots before Christmas provided a welcome service for our residents, and has had a beneficial effect on business conditions in our city.

Coupled with the approval of an uptown urban renewal project, which will eventually absorb the cost of the lots in a $3,500,000 federal and state financed rejuvenation of the uptown area, the parking facilities already have had an encouraging effect on Wall Street and North Front Street.

Even before the lots were approved by the Common Council, and the uptown urban renewal project approved by the federal government, these two major business thoroughfares began to take on a new look. Stores which remained empty for years were rented, and buildings which had been unused for quite some time were sold. Business establishments that had not been remodeled or painted in years, suddenly were given a new face to reflect the confidence of many of the merchants in the future success of our uptown shopping district.

I mention these savings in city operating costs, improvements in services, and renewal of our business climate because they all fit into the big picture of the future of our city.

I feel that two primary goals of efficient municipal government is to reduce property taxes and improve city services. To accomplish these goals requires several concurrent activities. First, reduction in the tax rate must be brought about by eliminating waste from municipal operations, and improved services must be prompted by increased utilization and efficiency of the municipal work force. Both of these policies have been applied with success in 1962, and will be continued in 1963.

Business Climate

At the same time, the business climate in the city must be improved so that business properties can afford to shoulder a larger burden of city taxation, and thus reduce the weight of taxes on the residential property owner. In 1962, parking meter reduction, the start of off-street parking facilities, and approval of uptown urban renewal began the rejuvenation of the city's business climate, and efforts in this area will be continued in 1963, along with similar urban renewal action in Broadway East and the downtown business section.

With an improved business climate and lower taxation, we can hope to attract new commerce and industry which will produce more jobs in the community, increase the residential property owner population, and spread the tax burden over many more individuals, thus lightening it for all. This is the way a city grows and prospers.

Now there are two other major policy commitments that I feel our city government must make in 1963 to help move us toward these goals.

First of all, we must make the maximum use of the two urban renewal projects that are now in the planning stage. Urban renewal is the most dramatic and effective method for producing large scale improvements in a city's tax structure, and encouraging residential and business growth.

Urban Renewal Projects

The federal and state governments have reserved over $9,000,000 in funds to help us rehabilitate our Broadway East and Uptown project areas. These are monies we could never possibly expect to raise on our own, and will, if the pattern of other successful urban renewal programs is carried out, produce another $45,000,000 of private expansion capital for our future growth.

Successful execution of our urban renewal projects will increase the city's tax revenues tremendously, and provide our municipal government with sufficient funds to make dramatic improvements in city services, increase the wages of municipal employees to comparative industry levels, and permit drastic reductions in the property tax rate. Furthermore, if we don't commit ourselves to proceed with execution of our two urban renewal projects, we will have to assume long-term financial responsibility for our municipal parking lots, for the city's share of the land acquisition costs of the new Washington Avenue arterial and Esopus Creek Bridge, and for as yet unestimated land acquisition costs for the new Rondout Creek Bridge and Rondout arterial to the East Chester Street by-pass.

Conservatively estimated, these projects alone represent over $600,000, and since they are within the boundaries of our two urban renewal projects, federal and state financing will absorb seven-eighths of the cost if we proceed into execution of the Broadway East and Uptown projects.

But, even more important a reason for urban renewal to progress in Kingston is the fact that there are still people living in Kingston under conditions that would shock us if we took the trouble or interest to find out. Conditions that bring tears to our eyes when we see pictures of them overseas, should horrify us if they exist here at home.

However, urban renewal requires considerable time for completion, and in the meantime, we must commit ourselves to take proper action to provide the property tax relief, improvement in city services, and business and industrial growth so necessary to our immediate future.

Because of annual increases in costs and reductions in municipal revenues resulting from the actions of governmental agencies beyond our control, we must take steps on the local level to protect ourselves from the pressure of higher property taxation.

Fair Basis His Aim

Therefore, the second policy commitment I feel city government should make for 1963 is the investigation of all possible means of non-property taxation for the purpose of providing increased revenue on an equitable and fair basis, contributed by all people who use and benefit from the facilities of our city.

You will note that I am not limiting my remarks to property owners, for I believe that all people who benefit from the conveniences our city offers, should share a portion of the financial responsibility for maintaining and improving these services.

At present, the property owners, many of whom are living on fixed incomes, bear the entire burden, and, even among this group we find that there are almost $3,000,000 of exemptions against assessments in the city.

Makes Lists Available

I have made available to the Common Council four separate compilations of information provided to me by the State Department of Audit and Control. These papers list all of the non-property taxes which may legally be levied by municipalities of the state. They also show the yield in revenue from these many different non-property taxes as experienced by various cities in the state.

Therefore, I am asking the Common Council once again to evaluate this information in light of the needs of Kingston's property owners, and to take the necessary action.

In respect for the prerogatives of the majority party in the Council, I am simply requesting them to assume the responsibility that goes with control of the legislative branch of government in Kingston, and which, according to our city charter, gives the Common Council the power to levy taxes, not the administrative branch.

And, if the majority party in the Council fails to provide an additional and equitable source of new revenue, then I hope it will at least act responsibly in preserving the 44 cent tax rate cut I presented at the public hearing on the budget last Thursday evening.

Desires Early Approval

Furthermore, I hope that the majority party, which controls the Common Council, will not delay this year, as they did last, the approval of a city budget, and thus again cost the taxpayers a waste of city funds through unnecessary borrowing.

If requested by the Finance Committee of the Council, I shall act speedily to arrange meetings for them with the various city department heads so that they can make the inquiries they wish before approving a budget.

Finally, I would like to mention several other activities which lie ahead this year, and which should result in definite improvements in our municipal way of life.

I am pleased to report that the Charter Revision Commission I appointed early last year has been actively dedicated to the task of preparing a new city charter for submission to public referendum this year. It is my hope that the public will support the efforts of this hard working group of private citizens.

I expect that the recommendations of the Charter Revision Commission will be well publicized and adequately discussed before the autumn of the year, and I hope the public will find it possible to provide the city with a modern, efficient instrument to replace our archaic charter when they go to the polls next November.

Will Help Taxpayers

Rather than wait for the city charter referendum, however, there is one section change for which a Local Law will be submitted to the Common Council. This section will permit certification of our tax assessment rolls to the Kingston Consolidated School District in August, when all other local governments in the district certify their tax rolls. This will prohibit the tax free construction of new buildings and improvements, increase our total tax assessments, and reduce the individual school tax share of city taxpayers.

While I had hope that this legislation could have been proposed last year, it was necessary to forestall action until the backlog of work in the City Assessor's Office, which had built up in previous years, could be brought up to date.

Finally, I am looking forward in 1963 to final approval from the state and federal governments of the city's application for 95 per cent of the land acquisition costs for a permanent park and recreational facility at Kingston Point. During the past year, the city completed an application for a state grant to provide 75 per cent of the land cost by including the waterfront property at Kingston Point Beach in the application. In addition the city discovered a new federal open land program that would provide an additional 20 per cent of the cost of land acquisition, and made application for this program. Therefore, in 1963, we anticipate the start of a project to restore Kingston Point as a major recreational facility for our residents and visitors.

Pledges Self for Progress

I hope that in the 12 months that lie ahead, Kingston will be able to make as much progress as it has in the year just passed. I hope, also, that the fact that 1963 is a municipal election year will not make it impossible for me to get underway many of the necessary programs for the benefit of the city.

I, for one, intend to dedicate myself again this year towards seeking solutions for the problems that face us as citizens of Kingston, and not as Democrats or Republicans. I pledge myself to place the needs of Kingston first and foremost before politics, and I hope that the majority party in the Common Council will realize that the most responsible way for them to earn the confidence and respect of their constituents, is to join me in this common desire in behalf of the good of the city.

Thank you, and my sincere wishes for a very happy, healthy, and prosperous New Year to all.

U.S. Counts 364

led in the first three days of the holiday.

The record low traffic death toll for a four-day New Year's holiday was 375 during the 1951-52 period. The record high four-day New Year's traffic toll was 409 in 1956-57.

During the four-day Christmas holiday last year, 646 persons were killed in traffic accidents, 107 died in fires and 85 lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 838.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said that considering the heavy toll during the long Christmas weekend, "we, engaged in safety work, are gratified that the New Year toll has slowed." He added that "we sincerely hope that this indicates a change in the traffic outlook for 1963 from 1962."

Although final figures are not available, the council has said that traffic deaths in 1962 have totaled more than 40,000 for the first time on record.

Burns Are Fatal

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Frank Termanna, 69, died today in Columbus Hospital of burns suffered in a fire that damaged his apartment Tuesday on Buffalo's north side.

Firemen said a cigarette apparently touched off the blaze. Damage was estimated at $750.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels were a firm spot in a mixed stock market as 1963 trading got under way today. Dealings were quiet early this afternoon.

While key stocks generally showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point, some of the higher-priced issues dropped 2 or 3 points.

Brokers ascribed the sharper losses to the desire of some traders to take profits at the start of the new year.

The firmness in steels was linked to expectations of heavy steel shipments this month.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .2 at 243.2 with industrials off .5, rails up .2 and utilities off .2.

IBM stretched a 2-point loss to about 4 in the afternoon. Polaroid was off more than 3 while Du Pont and Xerox dropped more than 2 each.

Six other troop-carrying helicopters were hit. Four were downed but two got away.

Government forces also launched an unusually large operation a short distance from the Cambodian frontier in the province of Tay Ninh, northwest of Saigon.

Five hundred troops were lifted in by U.S. helicopters and more than 1,200 paratroopers were dropped. About 85 aircraft, including fighters, bombers, helicopters and transport planes participated.

No initial contact was reported. Some of the paratroopers were hung up in trees, and several helicopters reported difficulty landing because the Viet Cong had set up helicopter stake traps in the area.

Werner Dismissed In Policy Case, Smith Fined $150

A charge dealing with alleged possession of policy slips was dismissed against one of eight men arrested after Dec. 13 gambling raids in Kingston, and another was fined $150 by Special City Judge Hugh R. Elwyn today.

Mayben Smith, 70, of 24 Henry Street, one of four charged with possession of policy slips, was fined $150 after pleading guilty, and the charge against Joseph Werner, 61, of 36 Van Buren Street, also dealing with alleged possession of policy slips, was dismissed.

Other cases were adjourned for the hearing of motions, and Judge Elwyn is to hear motions Friday which have been filed in defense of three of the defendants.

Data Insufficient

The charge against Werner was dismissed on motion of Attorney Elmor H. Nathan who had contended that the information was legally insufficient to hold him. Attorney Frank Campochiaro appeared for Smith. He also represents others for whom motions have been filed.

Judge Elwyn, in ruling against dismissal of charges against other defendants, explained his decision to counsel. New information, involving defendants, who are still to be heard, were reported by Assistant District Attorney Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr.

Cases Pending

Still pending is the hearing of charges against Peter Perry, 44, of 164 Highland Avenue; Ernest Perry, 55, of 132 Boulevard, both charged with keeping a place for gambling and possession of policy slips; John Carpio, 57, of 274 Washington Avenue; John Goumas, 69, of 22 Hoffman Street, both charged with possession of slips; Meyer Weiner, 44, of 69 Washington Avenue, charged with keeping a place for gambling, and John Sharot, 45, of 153 Ten Broeck Avenue, possession of policy slips. A charge dealing with alleged possession of pornographic film, which had also been lodged against Sharot, was recently dismissed.

Dinah M. Eich, 20, of Route 1, Woodstock, charged with participation in a Dec. 7 burglary at the Kingston Maennerchor, waived examination through her attorney Howard C. St. John and was held for grand jury action. Property bail of $1,000 is continued. Police said teenagers were also involved in the theft of beer and Christmas decorations from the Greenkill Avenue club.

Hearings Adjourned

Hearings of Patrick Burke, 22, of Box 15, Kingston, and Dennis Peter Weider, 21, who gave a Boulevard address, on narcotics charges, was put over to Jan. 4. Police claim they possessed units of heroin and marijuana.

Adjourned to Jan. 8 was hearing of burglary charges against Alfred Boyer, 27, of 2261 19th Street, Astoria, L. I., and Vito D'Amico, 28, of 2263 Webster Avenue, the Bronx, who were charged with attempted burglary at the store of Schneider's Jewelers Inc. of 290 Wall Street.

Due for hearing Jan. 8 also is William E. Clinton, 46, of 86 Farrelly Street, charged with petit larceny for alleged theft of a pocketbook. He was arrested early Jan. 1 after police were called to a midtown tavern.

Thomas Mayone Is New Investigator For County Sheriff

Sheriff Claude Bell today announced the appointment of Thomas Mayone of Barclay Heights, Saugerties, to the post of Ulster County Investigator to succeed Arthur H. Brown, who on January 1, became a special investigator in the office of the district attorney.

Investigator Mayone has been associated with the sheriff's department as a full-time deputy for the past four years and prior to that served as a part time deputy in the office since his appointment by former Sheriff Cluett Schanz 12 years ago.

He is a veteran of World War II, having served with the 11th Airborne Division in the South Pacific. Following the surrender of Japan he served with the United States Military Government in Japan until his discharge from service. After being discharged from military service he was associated with his father, Fred Mayone, in the conduct of the Fred Mayone & Sons Market at Barclay Heights, until he became a full-time member of Sheriff Bell's department four years ago.

Married to the former Caroline Reissler, who is head receptionist at the local IBM plant, he resides at Barclay Heights, Saugerties.

For some time prior to his appointment as Ulster County Investigator, he had assisted in the investigation of many cases with former County Investigator Brown.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

High Yield May Be Sign Of Problems Ahead

Q) My husband passed away recently and left me a little income property and $9,000 in cash, half of which I decided to invest in common stocks. On my broker's advice I bought Standard Oil of Ohio. However, in reading through the financial pages, I've discovered that Interlake Iron would pay me a much higher yield than I'm getting. I must live off my investments. Should I switch?"

A) Your broker put you in a very good stock, and I think you would do well to stick with it. Standard of Ohio pays a good dividend and offers a degree of security which a person like you should have. Interlake is in the pig iron business, and I am not particularly impressed with the firm's prospects. Earnings have been erratic and should continue to be so. Because of this, the shares sell to yield nearly 7 per cent, which, in itself, is a sign that there may be problems ahead. In buying common stocks, it is generally unwise to reach for unusually high yields.

Q) "We have two boys, ages seven and three, and for a long time have been putting away $200 a week each to give them a start toward a college education. They now have $725 and $300 saved, respectively. A friend suggested we put this money into American Telephone stock and from then on, invest periodically in more shares. My husband is employed by the Telephone Company so we get a special rate. Should we do this?"

D.L. A) Your friend has a sound idea. Telephone shares are a very fine investment and since you can get them at a special price, I think you would do well to do so. In ten years, when your older son is getting ready for college, you will have invested a total of over $1,700 which, supplemented by dividends and market gains, should be enough to give him a pretty good start.

OWNERS TIPS GO TO CHARITY

Q: In a recent column one of your readers wrote and asked how she, the owner of a beauty shop, could tactfully refuse tips from her customers without causing embarrassment. I also have my own beauty shop and have solved this same problem by placing a container from some charitable organization such as the Heart Fund, Cancer Foundation, Muscular Dystrophy, etc., on the counter and when a customer offers me a tip I say, "No thank you, but if you wish you can put it in the container." Perhaps this may help other readers who are faced with a similar problem.

A: I think your idea an excellent one and am delighted to print it for the benefit of other owners who may wish to follow your suggestion.

A Novel Engagement
Announcement

Q: My parents are giving a party to announce my engagement. It will be a surprise to most of the guests. Instead of having my father make a formal announcement, I would like the news to be made known in some novel way. It will be an informal type of party consisting of relatives and close friends. Have you any suggestions as to how this could be done?

A: It could be done by distributing corsages and boutonnieres to the guests tagged with both names, or you could let a cat out of a bag with your names written on a ribbon around its neck or the glad tidings could be made known in telegrams used as place cards, or any other way that may be pleasing to you and your own imagination can devise.

Before Divorce Is Final

Q: When divorce proceedings are very long and drawn out, is it possible to announce one's engagement to the man concerned before his divorce is final? He hasn't lived with his wife for a very long time.

A: You cannot possibly announce your engagement to a man who is still married.

Phone Co. Reports $508,000 Spent in Improving Service

The New York Telephone Company spent about $850,000 on the expansion, replacement and improvement of telephone facilities for its customers in Kingston and vicinity during 1962, J. J. Kohut, manager, reported today.

Kohut noted that the company's 1963 program is designed to give telephone customers in this area even more convenient and valuable service than before.

"We are planning to add several useful new products and services to our already extensive line," Kohut said. "The new panelphone, for example, is a complete telephone unit that can be built into a wall of a home or office. We'll also offer an improved version of the whisperphone which amplifies the user's voice and permits him to talk in a whisper and be heard clearly. In addition," he said, "We will introduce to the residence market the card dialer, a device that dials your calls for you; a new line of high speed teletype-writer equipment, and we also will expand our line of dial equipment to enable more people within the same office to talk to each other by making no more than two turns of the dial."

GOP Waxes Cool To School Plan In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — Compulsory school reorganization came under swift attack as the 1963 General Assembly convened Tuesday.

Fourteen Republican senators introduced a pair of identical bills seeking repeal of the controversial 1961 law.

Gov. Lawrence's special plea for preservation of the act received a cool reception from leaders of the Republican majorities in the two chambers.

And the legislature's best-known critic of the law reiterated his position that it should be repealed.

"He (Lawrence) is for it and I'm against it," stated Rep. Wilmer E. Fleming, R-Montgomery, former chairman of the Pennsylvania State School Board Association's special committee to work for repeal of the act.

Nevertheless, there were signs that the movement to repeal may not go as far as its advocates desire.

The tempering influence was Gov.-elect William W. Scranton's campaign statements favoring a one-year postponement of the July 1, 1965 effective date of the act. The 1961 law would merge the state's more than 2,000 school districts into some 400.

Reservoir Charge Lists Schedules And Activities

Fourteen members of Reservoir Churches Methodist Youth Fellowship visited Methodist Hospital of Brooklyn last Friday and presented proceeds from the Sunday schools Christmas Red Stocking collection to the Rev. Vernon Stutzman, director of the hospital.

Each year the fund is raised by Sunday schools of Methodism for the 79 hospitals' charitable work. A total of $500,000, was spent in free care last year in Brooklyn alone.

Attending were Beverly Marlatt, Alice Hendricksen, Martha Russell, Susan Bachman, Gloria Christensen, Ronald Comerford, Jon Fox, Betty Ann Haver, Beverly Henkel, Bruce Hopkins, Beth Nussbaum, and Jeanne Torp. Drivers were the Rev. William Hunter, Pastor and David Fox, who arranged tickets for the recording session of the Jan. 2 Perry Como show, which the group attended that evening.

Sunday service for Jan. 6 will center on Family Prayer and the sermon, "Taking Stock by the pastor. Services are at Ashokan 9:30, West Hurley with nursery 11 a. m. and Glenford 12:30 p. m. Sunday schools are at Ashokan 10:45, West Hurley 9:30, and Glenford 11:30 a. m.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet at the West Hurley church Sunday at 7 p. m.

The West Hurley Guild will meet tonight 8 o'clock at the home of president, Vivian Mackey north end of John Street, West Hurley.

Carol Lynn Moore, infant daughter of Pvt. and Mrs. Oliver Sherman Moore, was baptized Sunday, in the Methodist Church of Glenford. The Rev. William Hunter, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony held during the Sunday service. Mrs. Moore is the former Linda Buely of Ashokan. Mrs. Harold Downes, a sister of the father, was a sponsor of the child with the parents.

On College Staff

John W. Nichols, of Hurley, formerly of Sherry Lane, Kingston will join the staff of the College of Advanced Science, Canaan, N. H. It is a private four-year college chartered in 1955 offering extraordinary intellectual rigor in modern science and liberal arts courses. The college is headed by a former MIT and Boston University professor, Dr. Royal Faye, who also served the federal government in the development of nuclear physics. Mr. Nichols has been asked to lecture in the courses of electronics, circuit theory and modern algebra, beginning the next quarter at the college, Jan. 7.

To Boycott Firms That Won't Hire Negroes

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A nationwide campaign to boycott products of firms that refuse to hire Negroes is being organized by Negro groups, the Rev. Martin Luther King says.

The Negro leader made this announcement Tuesday at a rally observing the 100th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation.

King said details of the boycott would be worked out later. He named no firms.

King told an audience of about 7,000 that Negroes should call on President Kennedy to issue a proclamation ending segregation. "Segregation is nothing but slavery covered up with certain niceties," he said.

Farm Price Level Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers started the New Year off with a price level 1 per cent above a year ago but with little prospect of improvement in 1963.

The U. S. Agriculture Department has reported that prices received by farmers late in December were down 1 per cent from the November level but still 1 per cent above the December level of 1961.

But this modest price improvement was more than offset by a 2 per cent increase in 1962 in the prices farmers paid for goods and services.

Department economists have predicted that farm prices may lose a little ground this year.

VWWI Will Push For Expanded Pension Program

An effort to increase and expand the pension program for veterans of the First World War is the major objective of the Veterans of World War 1, Inc., when the new Congress convenes Jan. 7.

Edward J. Neron, of San Diego, Calif., national commander of the Veterans of World War 1, urges all eligible veterans to contact the National Headquarters of the VWWI, at 40 G Street, N.E., Washington 2, D.C., in order to be informed on what plans are being made for the proposals which will be presented to the new Congress.

Neron asks that all men who served in 1917 and 1918 forward their names, addresses and serial numbers to the headquarters and in return they will be supplied with complete and specific information concerning the legislative program of the Veterans of World War 1.

The latter organization is a comparatively new veterans group but on Dec. 31 had enrolled over 225,000 members. It was given a Congressional Charter by the Congress in 1958 and now ranks as the third largest veterans organization in the country.

Really Warm

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—When temperatures plunged in this upstate New York city, Richard Valle put a 150-watt light bulb under the hood of his auto in the hope it would warm the engine. It did.

Valle told firemen early today that heat from the bulb ignited a blanket which also was under the hood. The blazing blanket set fire to the car.

Comparisons Made Between Two Speeches of Rockefeller

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's first inaugural address, in 1959, provided several phrases for a key section of his second inaugural address, delivered Tuesday.

Some comparisons between the two speeches:

1959—"We can give little time or care to conventional labels or slogans."

1963—"There is a danger that the voter may...be deluded by slogans and labels."

1959—"We shall be progressive for the challenges are of such size and scope that we can never halt and say: Our labor is done."

1963—"We should respect a progressive point of view because the opportunities and challenges facing us now and in the future are of such size and scope that we can never halt and say: Our labor is done..."

Fire Destroys Eatery

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A fire that apparently started in a basement after closing time today wrecked the Melody Lane restaurant in the city's southwest section.

There was no official estimate of damage, but David Briars, an owner, said damage could total about $100,000.

Damage Is High In Philly Blaze

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A burned-out shell of a nine-story building and smoldering ruins of at least three dozen homes were all that remained today of what veteran fire officials termed the biggest fire in this city's history.

There was no immediate damage estimate, but authorities said it would be in the millions.

The 12-alarm blaze, which started in a factory warehouse in North Philadelphia, raged for more than three hours before being brought under control.

Fire Chief George E. Hink slipped on an icy pavement. He was the only person reported injured.

About 50 families were evacuated from nearby row homes that later were reduced to fiery rubble by the warehouse's collapsing walls.

RESCUED SKIPPER GREETSON—Minutes after he was rescued from his wrecked fishing vessel, skipper Vito Ciamataro, 33, greets his son, Frank, two, in their Gloucester, Mass., home. The 70-foot dragger Katy D. ran on reef near entrance to Gloucester inner harbor in below-zero gale. All eight aboard were rescued by Coast Guardsmen, three by boat and five by "high line" shot from shore. (AP Wirephoto)

Tug Still Aground

HIGHLAND FALLS, N.Y. (AP) —The Coast Guard harbor tug Sauk, her stern under water but her 17-man crew safely removed, remained aground today in the Hudson River near here.

The 110-foot tug went aground Monday night while attempting to break up ice. The 17 Coast Guardsmen aboard clung to the bow of the vessel until picked up by another tug. None were injured.

IN or OUT?

USC, Alabama, LSU and Ole Miss Capture Bowl Contests

Though Texas had its first unbeaten season in 39 years, Darrell Royal claims it was "the toughest of my coaching career." . . . mainly because of the persistent criticism leveled at the offense (or lack of it) . . . and yet Royal points out it was the second most productive attack. . . .

But it was nothing like the trouble he ran into on a post-season jaunt to Mexico . . . where he was caught in an earthquake at Acapulco, ran out into the middle of the street . . . and came within a triole of being crushed when the corner of a house crumpled and dropped at his feet. . . .

Darrell Royal

Vince Lombardi was talking about the tension grabbing him and the Green Bay Packers when they were on their 10-game winning streak: "One night I drove past my house five times without seeing it and almost wound up in Milwaukee." . . . The coach found himself smoking two cigarettes at a time. . . . Lombardi was so unhappy about the characterization of fullback Jim Taylor in a magazine profile that he cancelled his own impending byline in the same publication. . . . "Another of my snap decisions," he grinned. . . .

Houston Oilers Coach Pop Ivy says there are only three clubs in the National Football League with better personnel than the Dallas Texans—Green Bay, New York and Detroit. . . .

Guard Walter Rock of Maryland is probably the first collegian who ever heard himself drafted by a pro club. . . . He was cornered in a motel room with Jock White, the New York Yankee executive who doubles as a San Francisco 49er talent scout, and signed his contract while White had general manager Lou Spadina on the telephone from the Chicago draft meeting. . . . Rick held the phone while loudspeakers in Chicago announced his selection by San Francisco. . . .

The big story on the Cleveland Browns is the hushed-up reasons for benching Tom Wilson, the halfback who was supposed to make up for the loss of Bobby Mitchell and the sickness of Ernie Davis. . . . Wisconsin Rally Makes Rose Bowl The Wildest Ever

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Southern California reigned as a battered but unbowed national football champion today while Wisconsin's battling Badgers were hailed in defeat for the wildest finish in Rose Bowl history.

The Trojans, ranked the nation's No. 1 collegiate power after 10 straight 1962 victories, surged to a 42-14 lead early in the fourth period and then hung on for a 42-37 decision Tuesday as time ran out on the Badgers in the 49th annual classic.

"What I wouldn't give for just one minute more," said Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn, who beamed with pride over his team's 23-point comeback in the closing minutes. "The clock simply ran out on us." Apparently hopelessly beaten after Southern Cal scored its sixth touchdown in the opening seconds of the final quarter, the Badgers refused to quit and rallied for three TD's and a safety. The Trojans, shocked and bewildered, were like warriors caught in a stampede, but time was in their favor.

Ron VanderKelen, a senior quarterback who set a total-offense record for the Rose Bowl, passed 19 yards to All-American Pat Richter to draw Wisconsin within six points with one minute and 19 seconds to play. Gary Kroner then added his fifth conversion boot, raising his consecutive string for the campaign to 32, before he tried an on-side kickoff.

On-Side Kicks
Southern Cal guard Pete Lubisch wrecked the Wisconsin strategy by recovering on his 41. Three plays resulted in a net loss of seven yards and Ernie Jones stepped back to punt. His kick nearly was blocked and the gun sounded before the teams could line up.

Trojan Coach John McKay appeared more like a dejected loser and Bruhn more like a victor after the game. Bruhn, especially, had reason to be sad as Wisconsin failed in two previous trips to the Rose Bowl—losing 7-0 to Washington in 1953 and 44-8 to Washington in 1960.

"We just ran out of tackles," McKay moaned. "We had no tackles. We had guards playing tackle in the second half. Gary Kirner had an accident in his hotel room and tore a couple of his fingers. We kept it a secret. And then Marv Marovich got tossed out of the game for hitting someone near the end of the first half. Our man behind Marovich, Mike Gale, was out with a broken neck. We just didn't have the tackles."

Quick Call Hurts
Bruhn was disturbed by what he felt was a quick whistle that cost the Badgers a fumble recovery on the Trojan 30 with Wisconsin trailing only 14-7 in the second period. Two plays later Southern Cal scored on a 25-yard dash by Ron Heller, who only last Thursday suffered what was described as "possible a serious knee injury."

VanderKelen and his Southern Cal counterpart, Pete Bearhard, were voted co-winners of the Play-off-of-the-game award. Vandy, named the Big Ten's most valuable player after he led Wisconsin to the nation's No. 2 ranking with an 8-1 record, set a Rose Bowl total offense mark of 406 yards, including 401 yards on 33 pass completions in 48 attempts. Bearhard established a record for the classic by hurling four touchdowns passes while completing 8 of 12 tosses for 190 yards.

Griffing To Giants
The Sugar Bowl victory was directed by quarterback Glynn Griffing, who signed a contract with the New York Giants right after the game. The score was tied twice, at 3-3 and 10-10. Griffing hit Louis Guy with a 33-yard pitch for one touchdown and scored the other himself from the 1-yard line.

Billy Carl Irwin kicked a 27-yard field goal for Mississippi and Tom McNelly booted two field goals for Arkansas.

Mississippi, the No. 3 team in the country, completed its first perfect season in history, against the No. 6 Razorbacks.

Louisiana State, ranked seventh completely stifled No. 4 Texas. No team had scored on the ground against LSU in its last 17 games, and the Longhorns never looked like the team to break the string.

Amadee Stars
Lynn Amadee, named the outstanding back of the game, kicked field goals of 23 and 37 yards, around a third period touchdown scored by Jimmy Field on a 22-yard run.

All-America center Lee Roy Jordan did the major wrecking job for No. 5 Alabama over No. 8 Oklahoma at the Orange Bowl. He banged Sooner fullback Jim Grisham loose from the football twice within the Alabama 10-yard line in the first half, and his mates recovered both fumbles. Oklahoma was unable to mount an effective offensive after that, though the Sooners went into the game with the second best rushing attack and the third best total offense in the nation last season.

Colclough's 65-Footer

50 Club Edges Doran's 56 to 54 in Overtime

A sensational, last second, 65-foot jump shot by Jim Colclough tied the regulation contest at 52-52, but The 50 Club edged Doran's, 56-54, in overtime, on baskets by Frank Allen and Hank Bernard.

The YMCA "B" League leaders trailed Doran's, 39-36, at the end of three quarters, but forged ahead by two before Colclough's spectacular deuce, which traveled the length of the YMCA court, sent the game into overtime. Colclough also accounted for the lone Doran basket in the overtime.

Joe Spada (24) and John Bruck (22) paced Spada's to an easy 71-45 victory over Tucker's. Colclough was high scorer in the key game, with teammate Richie Nagele adding 15. Allen paced 50 Club with 16 points and Eric Broberg and Bill Chase added 14 apiece.

Horace Walker was the top Tucker scorer with 16 points and Bill Niles added 13 for Spada's.

Crack U.S., Canadian Skaters In Eastern States Tourney

SARATOGA SPRINGS—Some 300 crack speed skaters from the northeastern United States and Canada, including more than 20 prospects for the 1964 Olympics, are expected to compete in the annual Eastern States Speed Skating Championships which are to be held in Saratoga Springs for the 31st time, January 12-13.

"We expect every leading U.S. Olympic prospect from the northeast to be entered," said Eugene P. Lynch and Robert W. Walton, veteran Saratoga speed skating devotees who again head up the committee arranging for the meet.

Three Olympic candidates, Kenneth LeBel of Lake Placid, N. Y., Robert Fenn of Flushing, N. Y., and Miss Gail Purdy of Saratoga Springs, are among the early entrants.

LeBel, two-time national indoor champion and five-time winner of the North American indoor championship, and Fenn, victor in the national outdoor five-mile race at St. Paul, Minn., last year, both are entered in the Senior Men's Division of the Eastern States, where Fenn will be in the role of the defending Senior Men's Champion.

Gail Purdy Enters
Miss Purdy will be the senior women's defending champion in the Eastern States. She won four other senior women's championships last year, including the New York State outdoor at Westport, N. Y., and the International Silver Skates at Lake George, N. Y.

Bearcats Reach That Fatal '27'

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The last time Cincinnati was beaten, the Bearcats had run up a record of 27 straight victories. Now they've reached 27 games without a loss again and tonight take on Houston at home.

It was in Dec. 1961 that Coach Ed Jucker's two-time NCAA champions were ambushed by Wichita, 52-51. Since then, except for a loss to Bradley they have mowed down all their opposition, including dreaded Ohio State in the NCAA finals.

Houston shows a mediocre 7-5 record, but the Cougars lost two of their games in overtime—in Michigan and, in the Sugar Bowl Tournament, to Auburn—and could be tough.

Jucker is worried, too, over the condition of 6-foot-8 Dale Heidt, who injured an ankle last week and probably won't play. This is the final non-league game for the Bearcats, No. 1 in the current Associated Press poll, before they begin Missouri Valley operations Saturday against—of all teams—Wichita.

Duke is the only other ranked team scheduled to play tonight. The Blue Devils, No. 7, with high hopes of sweeping through the Atlantic Coast Conference, play Virginia on their home court and should have no trouble.

Georgia Tech, a team to be reckoned with in the Southeastern conference puts its undefeated (7-0) record on the line at home against the Air Force Academy in its final warmup before starting league action against Kentucky Saturday.

In other major games tonight, Brigham Young is at Memphis State, Yale is at North Carolina, Cornell is at North Carolina State, Florida State is at Tennessee, Indiana plays giant-killer Notre Dame (the Irish knocked Illinois from the undefeated ranks Monday) at Fort Wayne, Ind., and Drake is at Purdue.

Money Talks and The NFL Has It

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Money talks. And that was whisper the National Football League was using at the New Year's Day bowl games, flashing fancy figures that lured prized players Glynn Griffing and Jerry Stovall away from the rival American League.

As a matter of fact, it was the kind of day that left outspoken Harry Wismer, owner of the AFL New York entry, groping for words.

Griffing, a sharp passer and shrewd signal-caller who was tapped for stardom as a junior when he was selected as a future pick by both leagues, signed with the New York Giants of the NFL minutes after leading undefeated Mississippi to a 17-13 victory over Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl.

Stovall, hard-running All-America back and the No. 1 horse in Louisiana State's stable signed with the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals at the 40-yard line immediately after the Tigers' 13-0 triumph over Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Griffing and Stovall both were sought by the AFL's Houston Oilers. The Oilers also lost Stovall's teammate, tackle Don Estes, who went to the Cardinals.

Houston reversed the tables somewhat by grabbing its No. 1 pick, Arkansas fullback Danny Grabham, and Oklahoma halfback Paul Lea, who was signed at the Orange Bowl after a 17-0 loss to Alabama. Both were selected by St. Louis in the NFL draft.

Morris To Packers
Texas fullback Ray Poase went to Minnesota of the NFL, Oklahoma tackle Duane Cook made the Cards his choice. Mississippi back Morris decided on NFL champion Green Bay. Rebel tackle Jim Dunaway said he was committed to Buffalo of the AFL and Arkansas back Jessie Branch picked Calgary of the Canadian League.

Griffing and Stovall were the big catches as the pro leagues dropped their bait, but there was quite a bit of talk about the one that got away—Ron VanderKelen, the Wisconsin quarterback who starred for the Badgers in a 42-37 loss to Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

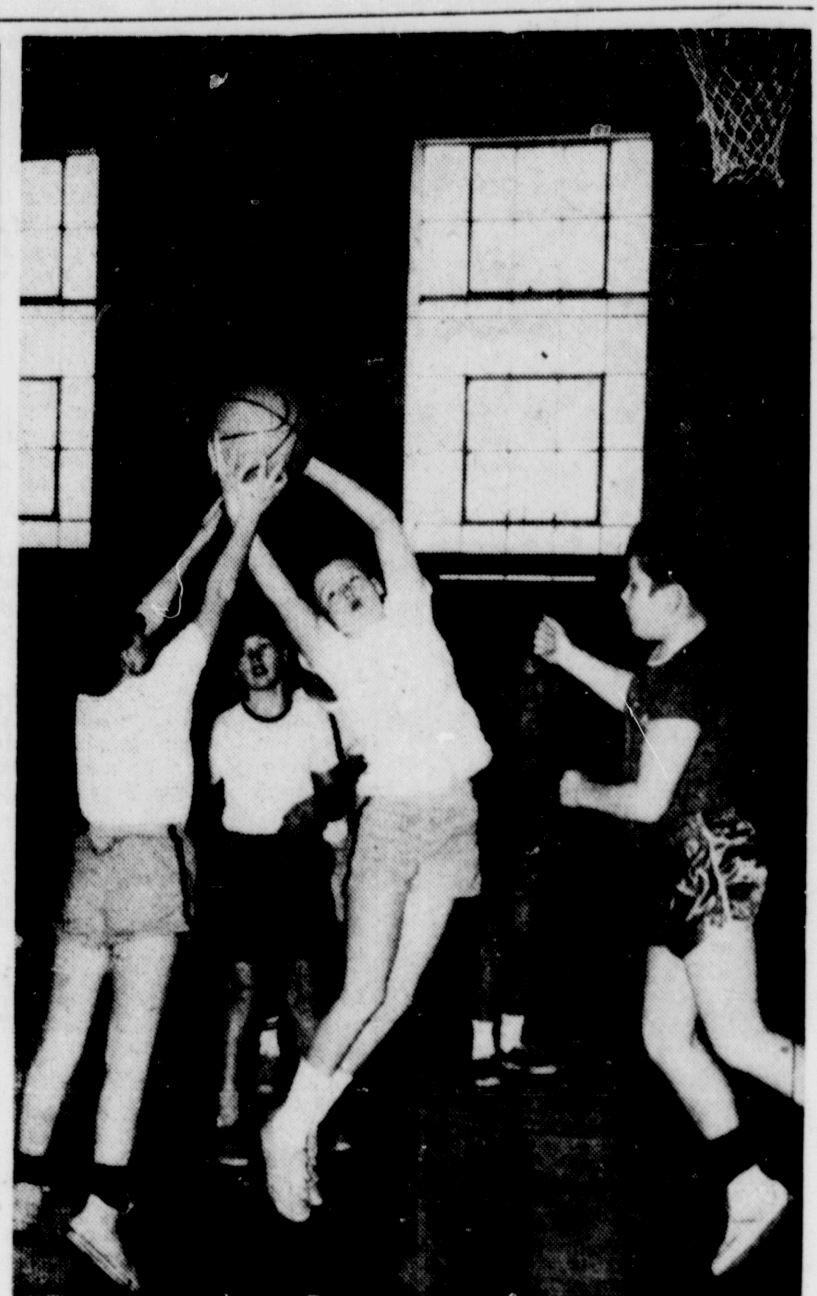

All 14 NFL clubs left VanderKelen off their draft lists. And that's what made Wismer speechless. He had just learned his club held draft rights to VanderKelen. "He's ours, really?" asked Wismer.

Assured that he was the Titans' No. 21 draft choice, Wismer said: "You can say right now that I'll be willing to give him a five-year contract at $25,000 a year. If the club is sold soon, I'll recommend that the new owners offer it to him. He'd be cheap at that price."

Another notable early entrant for the Eastern States is Saratoga's 14-year-old Mickey Green, collector of many juvenile girls' championships last year.

Entry blanks for the Eastern States have gone to skaters in nine states and two Canadian provinces.

The meet is sponsored by Saratoga Springs Chamber of Commerce, Saratoga Winter Club, Eastern States Committee, local Board of Education, Northern New York Skating Association and Amateur Skating Union of the U. S.

St. Mary's Jayvees Nip Wappers Five, 15-12

St. Mary's Jayvees of Kingston edged St. Mary's of Wappingers, 15 to 12, in the feature game of the CYO Holiday Festival at the municipal auditorium.

In another top game, Good Shepherd Tyro of Rhinebeck defeated St. Mary's Tyro IV, 15-13. Two of the six scheduled games were not played, as Smith Street Center of Poughkeepsie was unable to appear. The games have been re-scheduled for a later date.

Tom Primo paced the St. Mary's Jayvees with 11 points, as the locals gained a 6-4 edge in the fourth period to settle the issue. The Tyro thriller was decided in the last few seconds when a shot by Castle rolled in and out of the basket. Castle led the local scorer with 6 points and James Long was outstanding in the rebounding department.

Top Amateur Skating Clubs In Middle Atlantic Events

NEWBURGH — With less than a week left before the initial starting gun, 11 amateur skating clubs have announced their intention to be represented in the annual Middle Atlantic Speed Skating Races to be held on the ice at Recreation Park here on Saturday and Sunday (Jan. 5 and 6).

From these clubs it is expected that about 200 contestants will be seen in action when the curtain goes up on this colorful and thrilling event at 2 p. m. Saturday. The Sunday races will commence at 1 p. m. so that the finals will be reached before darkness sets in.

Sponsored by the Newburgh Lions Club, the ice skating championships will bring together top bladesmen and women from New York, New Jersey and New England. Some competitors will race as unattached individuals.

Top Clubs Enter
Clubs already represented in the spectacular racing competition, according to Mildred Egan, secretary for the Middle Atlantic Skating Association, Inc., in Brooklyn, are: Delano-Hitch Skating Club of Newburgh; The Newburgh Skating Club; Riverdale, N. Y. Skating Club; Binghamton Skating Club; Century Road Club of Bogota, N. J.; Prospect Park Club of Brooklyn; Hillman Club of East Paterson, N. J.; Yonkers Club; New York Flushing Club; Wollman Club of Flushing, L. I., and the Willowbrook Club of Singac, N. J.

Admission to the races on both days is free. It was announced by the Lions co-chairmen, Albert O. Kingsley and John T. Kenney. Ample hotel and motel accommodations are available in the Newburgh area for out-of-town guests while at Bear Mountain Park, a full winter sports program is available as an added attraction for weekend visitors attending the Middle Atlantic.

Hollywood
News, Views

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Next December Los Angeles will be gifted with a brand-new music pavilion, first building of a $25-million complex that will finally give the city a cultural center befitting its size.

The nation's No. 3 city has long orphaned the arts. Opera, symphony, dance and legit have been pushed around in ancient theaters and drafty auditoriums.

Civic-minded citizens have tried to spawn a home for the performing arts since the 1920s. One group started a drive for an opera house in 1940, but the war intervened. After the war, three bond issues were spurned by the voters.

A civic group tried to start a private drive, but the 1958 recession wiped it out.

"That's when I decided I would raise the money myself," says Mrs. Norman Chandler.

Mrs. Chandler is no ordinary fund-raiser. The wife of the head of the Los Angeles Times publishing empire, she has long supported the causes of culture in Southern California. In 1959 she accepted presidency of the Los Angeles Philharmonic with the Civic Light Opera, it rents an auditorium from the Baptist church.

She started with $100,000, which previous drives had netted. "But I thought it sounded better to have a half-million as a start," she explained. "So I went to two foundations. Each gave $100,000."

The county contributed seven acres in Civic Center and a $12-million bond issue to be repaid from revenue. Mrs. Chandler and her volunteers set and met their goals of $4 million and then $6 million for a 3,300-seat music hall.

"Then I was in London and thinking about how reluctant some people would feel about going to a dark downtown at night," said Mrs. Chandler. She evolved the idea of another 1,833-seat theater for more intimate productions and a 730-seat forum for lectures, etc.

The goal for public subscription was raised to $12 million, which was met last week. Mrs. Chandler is now aiming for an additional million to complete the furnishings.

probe of a burglary at Morgan's Restaurant, Cornell Street over the holiday, and began investigation this morning of another
Cy's Diner, Broadway and West Chester Street where cash and cigarettes with a total value of $113 were taken.

An attempt to crack a safe was also made at the diner where damage, estimated by police to amount to some $500, was done.
An attempt was made to rip open the bottom of the safe.
Entrance was made through a kitchen area where a door was found pried open.

Six bottles of liquor and contents of polo and muscular dis-trophy collection boxes were reported missing from Morgan's Restaurant. Entrance was gained through manipulation of a rear door lock.

Detectives Gurnsey Burger and William Slover are investigating both.

Snow or Rain Due by Friday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p.m. today to 7 p.m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Temperatures will average near or a few degrees below normal. Moderating trend then colder over weekend. Next precipitation of any consequence is not likely until about Friday, when some snow or rain is expected.

Western New York — Temperatures will average 6 to 11 degrees below normal. Slowly moderating temperatures, turning colder around the weekend. Precipitation will occur as light snow or snow flurries most of the period.

Temperature normals—Daytime highs 28-35; nighttime lows 8-16 except in upper teens near Lakes Erie and Ontario.

Cubans Ready for Fete

HAVANA (AP)—Beating conga drums and frying pans, hundreds of revolutionary faithful kept Havana awake through the night with an early start on the fourth anniversary celebration of Fidel Castro's rise to power.

Truckloads of Castro sympathizers rolled through the streets sounding their horns and beating out Caribbean rhythms in advance of a military parade and a mass rally at which Castro was to speak.

Weather Eases Over Northeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures moderated and stormy weather appeared ended in the snow-covered sections of the Northeast today.

Some Wet Spots

There were some wet spots across northern sections of the nation but no heavy amounts of snow or rain were reported.

In the Northeast, which was hammered by the season's worst storm earlier this week, light rain fell in Maine. In Maine, the storm had dumped 37 inches of snow in Old Town and 30 inches in Billerica. Sluff winds drifted snow 20 feet high in some areas. Light rain also was reported in the middle Mississippi Valley and in the Pacific Northwest. Freezing drizzle slicked areas in the upper Mississippi Valley while drizzle sprayed the central plains. Snow fell in the lower Great Lakes region and in parts of the north and middle Atlantic Coast states.

50s in Florida

In the eastern third of the nation temperatures ranged from near zero in parts of Michigan to freezing and lower in most other areas, with marks in the upper 50s in southern Florida. It was chilly in much of the Southeast, with temperatures mostly in the 20s as far south as south Georgia.

A cold pocket of air kept temperatures near zero in southern Utah.

JFK Ready to Accept Tax Cut . . .

flooding the labor market at a time when payroll-slashing automation is gaining wide acceptance.

The peak unemployment rate of the 1960-61 recession was 6.9 percent in March 1961. The November rate was 5.8 percent, compared with a 1962 low of 5.3 percent in July.

Sees Tough Road

Kennedy believes his tax bill will face very tough going. Even so, it has powerful support from important business and labor union spokesmen, who concur with the President's argument that high taxes act as a drag on economic growth.

On the other side, congressional conservatives worry about the impact of a tax cut on a federal deficit that—even if the bill does not pass—is expected to run about $6 billion in the new fiscal year that begins next July 1.

Kennedy is much concerned too, about other controversial items in his legislative package, notably aid to education and medical care for the aged through Social Security. Both have failed to pass two years running and an effort will be made in 1963 to "make them more palatable" or, in the words of one official, to unite their friends rather than their enemies.

Not Much Optimism

Despite this effort, it is doubtful that Kennedy entertains much optimism about the chances of passage.

In one sense, these two measures figure prominently in Kennedy's thinking because he blames them for the talk that, as president, he hasn't been tremendously successful with Congress.

Despite the prodding of some supporters, Kennedy's own policy opposes a presidential declaration of war on Congress—particularly when it is controlled by members of his own party. He regards this as a losing proposition from the start and keeps in mind that a Wilbur Mills may be an obstacle to tax reduction but had much to do with passage last year of the controversial tariff revision law.

If the President could do anything about Congress, he probably would reform the seniority system that gives powerful committee posts to, in recent years, Southern Democrats or conservative Republicans. But he isn't about to recommend anything along that line, this being a

Cold in Britain

Sells Out Bloomers

LONDON (AP)—Britain's freezing winter is booming bloomers. London stores report a sellout on the knee-length underpants. "Girls bought bloomers just for a laugh at first," said a spokesman for one store, "but they're finding out that in this kind of weather they can't do without them."

The bloomers are long, woolly, warm and ungainly. The blizzards ranging over southern England are the worst since 1881—when bloomers were the fashion.

Kripplebush

KRIPPLEBUSH — Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Davis of Erie, Pa., spent the week visiting relatives and friends in the area. Schools will reopen Jan. 3.

Mrs. Uriah Conner is spending some time with relatives at Fish's Eddy and Hancock.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cross and son of Lexington, Greene County, visited here recently.

The WSCS will hold its January meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Hough, Mrs. Alex Embree will be leader.

It is reported that Lester Van De Mark is improving at Benedictine Hospital.

People in the News

President-elect Juan Bosch of the Dominican Republic, visiting in New York City, has accepted an invitation to visit President Kennedy.

Bosch made public an exchange of letters with Kennedy.

Kennedy told Bosch: "I should like very much to have the opportunity to exchange views with you personally, at a mutually convenient time during your current stay in the United States."

Bosch replied that it would be a privilege to discuss common problems when he visits Washington in a few days.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, accepting a club tie designed by members of the Western press corps in Moscow, said: "I am delighted and promise to wear it at my next press conference."

He hasn't held a formal press conference for resident Western newsmen for more than two years.

The premier's new tie is dark blue with small golden cupolas inset with crossed sickles and quills.

David E. Bell, new chief of the U.S. Agency for International Development, was received by Chinese Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek when he arrived at Taipei, Formosa, from Tokyo for an overnight visit.

In New York City, Times Square had its usual jam of people who braved 10-degree weather to watch the lighted ball drop from the Times Tower at the stroke of midnight and the dawn of the new year.

C-H Lists $10 Million for 1963 Budget

Fishkill-Hopewell Junction area and to International Business Machines Corporation's new components division plant, now under construction. A total of $3,430,000 is earmarked for new business projects throughout the system.

Additional funds have been allocated for the installation of an IBM data processing computer system at Central Hudson's Danskammer Point electric generating station and for new IBM electronic data processing system to be located at the Poughkeepsie General Offices. Approximately $830,000 of the $980,000 allocated for the IBM equipment will be spent during 1963.

Far-Reaching Steps

The acquisition of both computer systems are "far-reaching steps in meeting the company's commitments to provide gas and electric service at the lowest possible cost to our customers and to be prepared, well in advance, for the growth that we are confident will take place in the Mid-Hudson Valley."

Relocation of natural gas and electric lines due to urban renewal programs and to city, state and federal highways programs will involve an expenditure of more than $1,320,000.

The relocation of both gas and electric lines along Route 17K between Montgomery and the New York State Thruway interchange west of Newburgh, the relocation of lines relative to the Poughkeepsie arterial highway program, and the relocation of electric lines along the west side approach to the Rip Van Winkle Bridge in Catskill are among the

License Is Revoked

John Odell McKenna, 55 Eltinge Avenue, New Paltz, who was arrested by troopers from the Highland station Dec. 23, was given a hearing before Justice John O. Beaver of Esopus Monday, Dec. 31. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge of driving while intoxicated. Justice Beaver imposed a $150 fine and revoked the license of McKenna. This was the second brush with the law for defendant. About a year ago he was arrested and pleaded guilty to driving while his ability was impaired. At that time his license was suspended for 60 days.
